Nazis Jail 50,000 Jews

U. S. RECALLS AMBASSADOR

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today announced that he had recalled Ambassador Hugh Wilson from Berlin for consultation.

Mr. Roosevelt, departing from White House custom, allowed the direct quotation of his views. He made his statement less than 24 hours after American Ambassador Hugh Wilson was ordered back to Washington from Berlin for consultation.

Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The news of the past few days from Germany has deeply shocked public opinion in the United States. 'I myself could scarcely believe that such things could occur in a twentieth century civilization.'"

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Fifty thousand Jews have been arrested throughout the Reich in the last few days, reliable sources estimated today. Of that number, 7000 to 8000 were estimated to have been seized in Berlin.

Many of those arrested are influential or wealthy Jews held as hostages.

Envoy Leaves
As Hugh Wilson, United States ambassador, prepared to leave for Paris tomorrow night on his way to Washington, the German press sternly warned America that agitation against Nazism would be reflected in further ill-treatment of Jews here.

The newspaper Schwarz Korps, organ of the elite S. S. Guards, declared that "we shall use Jewish hostages systematically no matter how shocking some people may find it." The paper went on to declare that using the Jewish principle of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" the Nazis will take a thousand eyes and a thousand teeth for every German eye or tooth.

Wilson arranged to leave quickly. He will depart for Paris tomorrow night and will sail from Le Havre aboard the S. S. Manhattan Thursday afternoon, arriving in New York Thanksgiving Day.

Panic Stricken
No announcement that Wilson had been summoned to Washington had appeared in the German press.

Ghetto-like measures were being formulated in Nazi government bureaus. Panic-stricken Jews in increasing numbers besieged the American and other foreign consulates.

Despite repercussions on the German bourse it was indicated there would be no recession in the drive which has swept the Jews from the financial, business and cultural life of Germany.

In the face of this Nazi stand despite world-wide protest, foreign diplomatic circles expressed doubt that Ambassador Wilson would return soon to Berlin.

Although the German press has suppressed all news of the indignation abroad, the afternoon newspaper Zwoifuhblatt took cognizance of it today in an attack on "Washington."

"Apostles of humanitarianism and the purposeful politicians of Washington—how could they be otherwise—are panic stricken over the clean division of Germans and Jews effected in Germany," the newspaper said.

"They hammer and curse with such effect that it soon might be (Continued On Page 4, Column 4)

SEARCH MEXICO FOR MISSING OFFICER UNDER INDICTMENT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Search for Police Lieut. Peter Del Gado, who vanished while under indictment in the city civil service scandal, pointed toward Mexico today despite an anonymous tip that he was slain.

Del Gado failed to appear for arraignment on a perjury charge yesterday and the $15,000 bail on which he had been at liberty was forfeited.

May Be Mexican
Coinciding with an anonymous telephone tip to the sheriff's office last night that he had been killed, it was discovered that Del Gado may be a citizen of Mexico, and not of the United States.

If it is the case, he was ineligible to have held the high ranking post on the Los Angeles police force—and what is more important to authorities today, if he has fled to Mexico, it will be very difficult to return him.

Del Gado's sister, Mrs. Hilda Medina, told deputy sheriffs that he was born in Chihuahua, Mex. Deputies John H. Morrell and Garner Brown said a check of federal records shows no naturalization papers taken out by the police officer.

CIO Answers Peace Plea

THE GROTT, Pittsburgh, Nov. 15.—The Committee for Industrial Organization, in a boisterous session, today served notice on President Roosevelt and the American Federation of Labor that it wants labor unity but will not sacrifice the fundamental principle of industrial unionism to attain this goal.

Blame A. F. L.

The action came on acceptance by the CIO first constitutional convention of a report by the organization's "peace making" group in which the A. F. L. representatives were blamed for collapse of previous truce conversations, and a supplemental report by the committee on officers reports headed by Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers.

The Martin committee report stated emphatically that "there can be no compromise" with fundamental purposes and aims of the CIO and stated this to be the future policy of the CIO toward the controversy.

Favor Unity

"The CIO accepts the goal of unity in the labor movement and declares that any program for the attainment of such goal must embrace as an essential prelude these fundamental purposes (unionization of mass production industries and protection of the rights and interests of all CIO members and affiliates.)"

"KIDNAPING" STORY CHECKED BY POLICE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Mystified authorities said they were "checking" today the story told by Harry Barbour, 46, recent candidate for state assembly, of being kidnaped from a San Francisco street, taken on a voyage in a fishing boat, and held captive three months in an adobe shack.

Barbour said the captors told him "we want you out of the way for a while"—presumably until after last week's final elections.

Barbour Candidate

He was a candidate for Democratic nomination for assembly, but believed this was not the cause for the kidnaping. Rather, he said, it had to do with other undisclosed factors in connection with a contest involving the state.

TVA Group Plans Utility Survey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(UP)—President Roosevelt, by executive order, today authorized a joint congressional committee investigating the Tennessee Valley Authority to inspect income and excess profits tax returns of private utilities.

The executive order was written in general terms to permit inspection of returns for calendar years up to and including 1937. T.V.A. Committee Counsel Francis Biddle said that the order was designed to permit the investigators to assemble information bearing on valuation of private utility properties.

Biddle indicated that a portion of the information assembled from the returns may be brought out when private utility executives testify before committee hearings this week. The executive order was designed to permit the investigators to assemble information bearing on valuation of private utility properties.

Jubilee Speaker

T. E. Stephenson, county treasurer and student and authority on Orange county history, will present a paper on the early history of Orange county Thursday at 6:30 p.m. as a part of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce Jubilee program at the American Legion hall, celebrating the 50th birthday of the chamber. The program will include a dinner.

JUDGE SAYS SLACKS TABOO; GIRL JAILED

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Daring the judge to do his darndest, Miss Helen Hulick appeared today before Municipal Judge Arthur S. Guerin wearing pants, and was promptly ordered into the custody of a court marshal as soon as she completed her testimony in the case on trial—a case which slipped into insignificance in the face of her disputed slacks.

Judge Guerin sentenced Miss Hulick to a five day term in the city jail, but released her on her own recognizance pending the filing of a writ of habeas corpus which would take the matter before the appellate division of the superior court.

Defies Judge

Miss Hulick knew she was headed for the clink for defying his honor, because she previously had been called down twice for invading the August presence wearing neatly tailored slacks. She said she liked 'em and she'd be darned if any mere man could tell her she could not wear 'em, jail or no jail.

She even hired a lawyer to uphold her pants, 'er, at least the right to wear them. She wears a belt usually. Judge Guerin said she was in contempt of court just as much as a man who puffed a cigar upon the witness chair would be in contempt.

Court Hits Food Store Ordinance

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—(UP)—A Tulare city ordinance establishing closing hours for food stores was declared unconstitutional today by the state supreme court. Justice J. W. Curtis dissented from the majority opinion, which was unsigned.

The court held that if the ordinance "related only to foods susceptible to quick spoilage there would be no question as to the validity of the ordinance," but that to term the ordinance a health measure was "unreasonable and arbitrary."

The case came to the court on an appeal from the Justensen food store in Tulare. Previously, the court had upheld measures designed to regulate the hours of butcher shops.

Calhoun Trial Moves Slowly

Slow progress was being made today in the murder trial of Charles Calhoun, 28, charged with the killing of his stepfather, Clyde Dillingham, 30-year-old cousin of John Dillingham.

Shortly before noon, only two peremptory challenges of jurors had been exercised in the case, with each side having a total of 20 challenges to employ, if desired. The work of selecting the jury might last through the day, it was believed.

GRAND JURY SESSION
The county grand jury, now engaged in its regular routine investigating, following a special inquiry into the political pamphlet, "Fools Rush In," was scheduled to hold a meeting late today, to organize itself for the coming investigation.

See Shakeup In Cabinet

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today announced Attorney General Cummings will leave his cabinet in January.

The retirement of Cummings was the first voluntary withdrawal from Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet group since the start of the New Deal.

Of two previous cabinet vacancies one was caused by death and the other by serious illness.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today announced that his eldest son, James, has resigned as White House secretary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(UP)—A high administration official told the United Press today that President Roosevelt may announce a change in his cabinet before leaving for Warm Springs, Ga., Sunday.

The post at issue, he said, was that of attorney general, now held by Homer S. Cummings. It was expected that his successor would be Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson.

NEW LOAN PLAN IS REVEALED BY SLOAN

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors Corporation, said today that the company's plan for advancing money to laid-off employees, which goes into effect Jan. 1, would guarantee 10,000 workers a steady, minimum income throughout the year.

While technically, it will not be an annual wage program, which many labor and government leaders have recommended, it would enable every eligible employee to make his personal arrangements for a year in advance, knowing that in no week would his income fall below the amount he is qualified to borrow, Sloan said.

Two Divisions

The program is divided into two sections, one affecting workers with five years service in the company; the other for workers of more than two, but less than five years' service.

When idle in slack production periods, five year workers will be able to borrow from a fund, set aside by the company, an amount equal to 60 per cent of their standard weekly wage. The standard week is 40 hours, with time and a half for overtime.

They will repay the money from their wages when they return to work. The rate of repayment will be half the amount earned in excess of 60 per cent of the standard wage.

Seek To Break Milk Monopolies

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—(UP)—The government today named public officials, union officials, dairy cooperatives and companies in indictments charging monopolies in milk and ice cream.

The federal grand jury returned two indictments Nov. 1 naming 38 in alleged conspiracies to restrain trade in milk in the Chicago area and ice cream in the United States.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, famed president of Chicago's board of health, Capt. Dan Bilbert, chief of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney's police, and prominent executives of big and little milk companies were charged with conspiring to fix milk prices and drive independent producers and distributors out of business.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 15.—(UP)—Gov. Bibb Graves today denied the appeals for freedom of five negroes convicted in the Scottsboro assault case.

Graves approved without comment a recommendation of the Alabama pardon board that the negroes be denied pardons. His action put an end to attempts for freedom for the defendants in the seven year old case during his gubernatorial term.

The five who sought release from long prison sentences were Heywood Patterson, Clarence Norris, Andy Wright, Charlie Weems and Ozie Powell.

Candidate Tells of Kidnaping

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Telling of being kidnaped, shanghaied and imprisoned aboard fishing boats, 51-year-old Harry Barbour, candidate for state legislature who disappeared just before the primaries, turned up today to tell his hair-raising story to grand jury foreman Robert M. McCurdy of his captivity since last August 13 when he was snatched in San Francisco.

ARMY PRIVATE TAKES JOY RIDE IN BOMBING PLANE; CRASHES

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 15.—(UP)—An army private from Brooklyn, N. Y., who apparently was seized with an uncontrollable desire to try his hand at flying, faced disciplinary action today after cracking up one of the army's newest and most expensive bombing planes.

Ben Fleigelman, 35, private, first class, attached as a mechanic to the 23d bombardment squadron at Luke Field, was the culprit, army officials said.

Although unqualified as a pilot, Fleigelman hopped into a silver-nosed Douglas B-18 bomber last night after watching a group of commissioned fliers leave the field on a night mission in connection with current war games.

No Accident
Aviators at the field discounted a theory that he might have taken the plane "accidentally" as they said the weight of the bomber necessitated a long run downfield at high speed to clear the field.

This feat Fleigelman performed while airport officials realized what was happening. Once in the air he circled northwest from the field and disappeared in the night, flying without lights.

Too Much Terrain
Scarcely had army officers time to make plans for the runaway's "capture" when the plane's crash was reported in a pineapple field five miles away.

Investigation revealed Fleigelman was flying low, having apparently made no allowance for rising terrain.

State Moves To Buy Toll Road

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Further action toward making Sears Point toll road free of fees through state purchase was announced today by Earl Lee Kelly, director of the state department of public works.

Purchase of the toll road has been authorized by the state highway commission. Kelly yesterday signed a warrant requisition to pay the Sears Point toll road company $10,000 as the down payment of the $200,000 price agreed upon for the 10.9 mile stretch through Sonoma and Solano counties.

The requisition was submitted to Attorney General U. S. Webb for approval, after which State Controller Harry B. Riley may deliver the $10,000 to the San Francisco title company. It was expected the deal would be completed by Nov. 23.

Find Grape Juice Traffic Hazard

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 15.—(UP)—Juice of the grape—even in its unfermented stage—is a menace to motorists in some sections of California, according to E. Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patrol.

Cato issued a warning to car drivers that juice leaking from grape-laden trucks have caused extremely dangerous highway conditions in sections of Napa, Sonoma and Solano counties. On some grades, he said, the slippery highways have forced motorists to take to the side of the road.

Grape shippers were requested by Cato to use sealed trucks in hauling the product to market.

J. Malcolm Green, Santa Ana editor, was freed of conspiracy charges in the "Fools Rush In" case today, as Justice Chris P. Pann held G. F. McKelvey, Robert Elliott and Eddie Taylor for trial on three counts of criminal conspiracy.

Information of the charges against the trio will be filed by the district attorney's office in department two of superior court November 25 at 10 a. m.

Of the three counts, one charges conspiracy to violate the election laws by writing, printing and circulating an anonymous pamphlet, designed to injure candidates. The other two counts charge conspiracy to commit criminal libel.

Drop 2 Counts

The court, however, had earlier dismissed two other counts charged criminal libel, so counts two and three are based upon an offense that the court ruled was not committed.

Green was dismissed on motion of his attorney, W. M. Burke, who reviewed the testimony at the hearing, pointing out that the state had produced nothing tangible to connect Green with the pamphlet.

In holding McKelvey to answer, his fellow townsman, Justice Pann, commented that he "could surmise the devotion that was father to the thought" in McKelvey's action, apparently referring to McKelvey's presumed desire, as a deputy sheriff, to aid the sheriff in the campaign. The court added that "it was the most difficult duty in his years on the bench" to pronounce his decision, because he always had held McKelvey in high esteem.

Elliott is an employee of the Los Angeles printing plant where the pamphlet was printed. Taylor was employed by the distributing firm which circulated it.

NEW DEAL "GAGGING INDUSTRY" SAYS HEAD OF BANKING GROUP

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 15.—(UP)—Orval W. Adams of Salt Lake City, president of the American Bankers association, attacked the Roosevelt administration today and charged that the National Labor Relations Board has prevented recovery by binding and gagging industry.

Adams, addressing the opening session of the bankers' 64th annual convention, asserted that the NLRB was the New Deal's "pet" and was the "tool of radical labor leaders."

He denounced vote-buying politicians, diversion of social security funds, "reckless" public spending, controlled elections by coercion of relief workers, governmental waste, subsidized power projects, "federal greed," and chain bankruptcies.

Sees Dictatorship
"We are drifting with ever increasing speed into government planned economy, state capitalism and totalitarianism," he told 3000 bankers.

"The inevitable result of such planned economy is ultimate dictatorship! This is a tendency which, if not checked, will move strongly into some form of national Socialism or Fascism."

"Your depositors as a class believe in fair dealing," Adams continued. "Do you not feel that if your depositors understood how one-sided the national labor relations act is, both in wording and administration, how it operates to (Continued On Page 4, Column 6)

ABSENT VOTE TOTAL NEAR

BULLETIN
With 239 absentee ballots counted at 2:30 p. m. today, the hotly contested judicial race between Franklin G. West and Kenneth E. Morrison stood with West in the lead by 143 votes. Of the 239 absentee ballots checked, Morrison received 107 and West 94, while 558 ballots remain to be counted. West's lead of 143 is based on official canvass figures.

Election of Franklin G. West as judge of department two, superior court, appeared almost certain today, as the first check of results from the official canvass of votes gave him a lead of 157 votes over Justice Kenneth E. Morrison, of Santa Ana, and Morrison's early lead in the count of absentee ballots appeared insufficient to overcome West's margin.

The first check of the official canvass of votes cast last Tuesday gave West 23,890 to 23,733 for Morrison. These totals, which are subject to a recheck for confirmation, increased a lead of 119 West held on revised unofficial figures after an error of 100 in Irvine precinct was found late yesterday, reducing Morrison's total that much, and another error of 20 in Anaheim precinct No. 3 was found, adding that much to West's total.

Morrison was cutting down West's lead as the count of absentee ballots proceeded, but at noon had gained only 10 votes in a count of 118, which left West's lead at 147. Since there are approximately 800 absentee votes in all, it appeared that Morrison's rate of gain, if maintained, would not overcome West's advantage.

Seven election boards from Santa Ana precincts were subpoenaed before the county supervisors today, because of erroneous methods of tallying the votes. The errors did not affect the vote count in (Continued On Page 4, Column 6)

PLAN SERVICES FOR VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Funeral services for Edmond C. Wilson, 43, 329 South Olive street, Orange, who was almost instantly killed at Wilmington, at 9 p. m. Sunday in a traffic accident, are to be held at the Barker and Fowler Mortuary in that city tomorrow at 1 p. m. Services are to follow an inquest scheduled at 4 a. m. tomorrow. Veterans of Foreign Wars will be in charge of the services and interment will be made in the Roosevelt cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was the son of Mrs. Laura Reud, Orange. He met death when the sedan he was driving crashed into the end of an oil tanker parked along the east side of the San Pedro road. The driver of the tanker, W. G. Meyers, Huntington Park, eating a lunch across the road, heard the crash as the sedan struck the tanker and leaped to the seat driving it away before an explosion occurred. The tanker was the property of the Pacific Tank Lines of Los Angeles. Meyers told Wilmington police he had left lights on the tanker lighted.

Survivors of the Orange man beside his mother are two brothers, James J. Wilson of Orange and W. C. Wilson, Minneapolis; two sisters, Mrs. Maud Holland, Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Eva Attix, Long Beach.

ONE INJURED IN FOUR MISHAPS

Four accidents occurred on Santa Ana streets yesterday, one involving the bus of the Marywood Catholic high school of Anaheim, and one person was injured, police records show.

The bus accident was spectacular in that the bus collided with the rear of a truck operated by Louis LePlatt, 1841 West 17th street, at St. Gertrude place and Orange avenue, turned over on its top, spun around and landed again on its wheels without injury to the driver, F. M. Earles, Route 3, Anaheim. Earles was riding alone.

Woman Is Hurt
Mrs. Valeta Erickson, 68, 525 South Orange, Orange, suffered shock and bruises at Stafford and Poinsettia yesterday afternoon when a truck operated by Elmer McCloud, 26, 417-1/2 Garfield, collided with a car driven by Al Laughlin, 52, 902 Brown street. The Laughlin car overturned. Mrs. Erickson was a passenger in the car.

A truck operated by Eddie Floud, Los Angeles, collided with a parked car registered to Dean Gowdy, 820 Kilson drive, at First and Sycamore about 2:50 p. m. Detective Lieutenant Charles W. Wolford, who investigated, said, Earl Smith, 8261-2 North Broadway, was driving south on Broadway at 2:30 p. m. when his car and one driven by D. D. Sharp, Anaheim, west on Sixth street, collided.

S. A. Drum Corps Work Cancelled

The "turn-out" of the American Legion Drum corps of Santa Ana post 131, originally scheduled for tomorrow night at Costa Mesa, has been indefinitely postponed, according to Marion Dodder, secretary of the group.

At the same time Dodder announced that all practice periods for the drum corps would be cancelled until after the first of the year.

Dr. J. O. Costello Opens S. A. Office

Dr. Joseph O. Costello announced today that he is entering general practice in his new offices at 212 North Broadway in Santa Ana.

Following graduation from the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons in Los Angeles, Dr. Costello visited various of the eastern clinics and hospitals, including Cook County Hospital in Chicago, Bellevue Hospital in New York City, Jefferson, Temple and the County Hospital in Philadelphia, Johns Hopkins and the University Hospital in Baltimore. Dr. Costello obtained his internship in the Los Angeles County Hospital, Unit II, and then worked as a resident physician in the Glendale Emergency Hospital where he gained valuable experience in industrial and accident surgery.

The past year was spent in association with Dr. Laurence C. Spangard, well known Hollywood surgeon.

Dr. Costello states that he located in Santa Ana because of its central location, its hospital and working facilities and in short, because he likes it here and wants to make Santa Ana his home.

Extend Deadline Of Tavern Post

Announcing that the deadline for contributions to Tavern Post, Joyce's literary magazine, had been extended to November 21, Herschel Albrecht, editor of the publication, today urged all students interested to submit any original material to their English instructors before that date.

Each semester Tavern Post is published by the Tavern Tattlers organization and several worthy awards are given to the authors of outstanding works in various fields.

All Junior college students are eligible to submit their work for Tavern Post and may present such material in the form of humorous or serious prose, poetry, short stories, essays, sketches, or one-act plays.

This semester's staff, in addition to Editor Albrecht, consists of Marjorie Vollmer, assistant editor; June Holman, assistant editor; Josephine Butler, art editor; Carroll Richardson, business manager; T. H. Glenn, faculty adviser.

The first editor of Tavern Post was published in 1928.

BOOST SOUTH MAIN STREET EXTENSION PLAN

EARLY ACTION SEEN BY STATE

Assurance of funds for the extension of the South Main street cut-off from the Eddie Martin Airport to the Coast highway was seen today in a communication from the state chamber of commerce to the Santa Ana chamber.

In the communication, which included an invitation to participate in the annual three-day tour of inspection of Southern California highways, it was stated that the restoration of $175,000 earmarked for the construction and later taken for flood emergencies would be among the first recommendations of the state chamber to the highway commission.

Early Action Seen

Action on the resolution of the state group will come with the opening of the 1939 state assembly.

George Kellogg, chairman of the highway committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, will represent Orange county in the tour of five Southland counties that opened today in Los Angeles. The motor entourage will visit Los Angeles, Orange, Imperial, San Diego and Riverside counties.

Democrats Plan Friday Jubilee

Democrats of Orange county will hold jubilee next Friday evening with a Thanksgiving party in Santa Ana Junior college hall, Tenth and Main streets, Santa Ana, where the recent state and congressional political victory will be celebrated, under auspices of the county central committee.

The meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. will be discussed by Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, and several other candidates are expected to attend. Refreshments will be served.

All Democrats are invited to the affair, it was announced by Mrs. Mae B. Getting, publicity director for the central committee.

Church Society Holds Silver Tea

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 15.—The new home of Mrs. George Crane on Pine street was the attractive setting for a silver tea sponsored by the Young Women's Foreign Missionary society. Several of the members were dressed in native costumes of India which had been brought from that country by Miss Arnes Dunn, who served as missionary nurse for more than 10 years.

Miss Crane received the guests in a bridal costume of the better class of India. Presiding at the tea table which was covered with a lace cloth and centered with yellow flowers and tapers, were Mrs. Donald Schnitzer in a native dress-up outfit and Miss Fernie Schnitzer wearing a Christian college girls' costume. Others in native attire were Miss Dunn, Miss Mildred Foster, Dan Milhauser and Shirley Jean Watts. Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, adviser of the group, assisted in serving.

Mrs. R. E. Nida and Miss Dorothy Schneider entertained with readings. Articles from India were shown by Miss Dunn.

Roosevelt Bows In Tribute To America's War Dead

Twenty years after gunfire and carnage ceased in the World war. President Franklin D. Roosevelt led in Armistice Day services at Washington, concluding with the placing of a wreath upon the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery—the tomb that is symbolic of all World war dead. The President is shown on the arm of Col. Edwin Watson, U. S. A., White House military attaché, while Commander Daniel Callaghan, U. S. N., lays the wreath on the tomb, and a bugler waits to sound "Taps."—Acme Telephoto.

FIVE FIRES IN COUNTY AREAS KEEP CREWS BUSY FOR HOURS

Five fires called out state fire crews of the county yesterday, the series of blazes beginning at 9:30 a. m., when a pile of railroad ties on the property of R. R. Ellsworth, Walker street, Cypress, burned when grass near them was set fire from a match or cigaret thrown by a passerby. The state truck from Orange put out the blaze.

Three fires raged in various parts of the county at approximately the same time yesterday afternoon. At 3:30 p. m. fires broke out in Peters canyon, San Juan Capistrano and in the Placentia-Yorba Linda district. About 75 acres of brush and grass land were burned over in Peters canyon, the fire starting at the east side of Peters dam. Loss is estimated at $1 an acre for the range land.

Fire fighters worked until 8:30 p. m. in getting the flames under control and the area was patrolled by Walter Painter and the Trabuco canyon fire crew during the night. The Orange truck under the direction of Joe Scherhome of F. Daniels as the flames raced along above house tops and orange groves and a tractor and tractor shed belonging to L. Jacobson were destroyed.

A grass fire burned over two acres at 17th and Wright street, Garden Grove when Beggs brothers were burning weeds on their property at 1 p. m. as the fire got out of control when a blazing tumble weed was sent rolling across a field by the wind.

Tustin Resident Called By Death

Mrs. Margaret Ann Walters, 75, passed away at her home at 408 Fourth street, Tustin, today. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Mary Walters, of the Irvine ranch, and a nephew, Dale L. Harris, of Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Walters was born in Plattsburg, Neb., and had been a resident of California for the past eight years. Funeral arrangements are being made by Smith and Tuthill.

SET THURSDAY CITRUS SESSION

Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers exchange, and T. H. Powell, general sales manager, will be speakers at what is expected to be a largely attended meeting of citrus growers at the Orange Intermediate school, North Glassell street, Thursday at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement made by C. E. Skiles, secretary and manager of the Orange Fruit Growers exchange.

Return From East

Both officials recently returned from annual visits to eastern markets. They will speak on citrus markets and the general outlook for business. The meeting is to be open to all citrus growers, regardless of marketing affiliations. All exchange growers are especially urged to be present. The fruit growers meeting is held annually following the close of the Valencia orange season and the session scheduled for Thursday follows a custom of many years' standing.

Kidnaping Story Investigated

board of equalization. Barbour had been reported missing by his wife last August and some search had been made for him but authorities had held no great fears for his safety. Suddenly he reappeared yesterday and told the bizarre story to the county grand jury. The jury took no action, but referred the case to the district attorney's office.

Held In Shack

Two men lured him to an automobile in San Francisco last Aug. 13, popped a potato sack over his head, and drove to the waterfront where he was transferred to a fishing boat, he related. Two days later he was found in a one-room adobe shack on the desert. Presumably this was Mexico because the terrain appeared to be desert; two Mexicans guarded him; and the food was mostly Mexican—"My, I'm sure tired of chili," he complained.

Unharmed

He was never threatened nor harmed, and his money and watch were untouched. The guards frequently mentioned the election and a few days ago, Barbour related, he managed to convince them the election was over, so they took him to sea again blindfolded and landed him at San Pedro.

Barbour's wife said he had lost 15 pounds and wore a long gray beard, so that she did not recognize him when he appeared.

"I was sure all along that he was kidnaped," she said.

Shakeup Looms In U. S. Cabinet

who asked that his name not be used, said that a shake-up in the cabinet was impending. However, only the one change is contemplated at present, he said.

He emphasized that reports of Works Progress Administrator Hopkins replacing Secretary of Commerce Roger were "premature." He declined to add to that statement.

For several months there have been recurring rumors that changes in the cabinet were imminent. Since the general election last week there have been unconfirmed reports not only of commerce and justice department changes, but also of new secretaries of labor and of the navy.

Not Unexpected

The resignation of Cummings would not be unexpected. It has been known for some time that he wished to return to private law practice in Stamford, Conn. Likewise, the appointment of Jackson as his successor would not surprise official Washington. For more than a year he has been one of the New Deal proteges and, at one time, received serious mention as the administration's choice to succeed Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York. Postmaster General Farley, as Democratic committee chairman, was reported to have spiced that plan as "impractical."

Third Change

Jackson was appointed assistant attorney general in 1936. He had been general counsel for the bureau of internal revenue since 1924. He was made solicitor general in January, 1938, when Stanley F. Reed was appointed to the supreme court.

A change in the Roosevelt cabinet now would be the only third since Mr. Roosevelt's first inauguration in 1933. Both previous changes were a result of serious illness and death.

BIRTHS

Army Private Borrows Plane

The army apparently intends to give out about the episode until later.

Dangerous Stunt

This official said that Fleigelman's crackup five miles from the airport was "more or less to be expected" but said he marveled that the Brooklyn private got the plane off the runway.

The Luke Field runway is the one where the world-famed flier Amelia Earhart cracked up during an attempted takeoff to Howland Island. It is a long concrete strip which supposedly needed expert hands at the controls of the new bombers before it could be negotiated with any degree of safety.

The official said Fleigelman's feat is "the most fantastic thing I ever heard of" but added that the army did not intend to allow Fleigelman to become a "hero" because of his escapade.

Amsterdam Plane Crash Kills Six

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 15.—(UP)—The body of Chief Pilot Jan Dulmeaer was found at the edge of Schiphol airport today, raising to six the number of persons killed when a KLM airliner crashed in a dense fog a mile from Amsterdam. Twelve were injured, three seriously.

The plane, an American-made Douglas DC3, was en route from Berlin to London.

Dulmeaer flew over Amsterdam. It was believed he had started to land. The plane crashed into a ditch, then taxied on one wheel to a second ditch, where it was wrecked.

The bodies of the dead and wounded were strewn for more than 100 yards about the wreckage.

Sentence Family In Dope Case

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 15.—(UP)—Convicted on charges of growing marijuana without a license, Jose Bravo, 63, his wife, Sanovia, 54, and their son, Jesus Bravo, 19, all of Livingston, were under sentence to a federal prison today.

After hearing evidence and testimony in Unit 4 States district court, Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich laid yesterday imposed terms of one year in Terminal Island prison near San Diego on father and son and sentenced Mrs. Bravo to six months in the same institution.

Narcotic agents testified they found 100 marijuana plants, packing equipment and a sack filled with the dried narcotic on the Bravo ranch.

U. S. Recalls Envoy to Germany too much for us. This Washington should let itself be told! Or has one failed correctly to understand Dr. Goebel's words that any new campaign will be a bad service to the Jews of Germany?

"If so, then it should be repeated as a warning which should not be taken lightly, because it is meant seriously," Zwölfuhrblatt said.

The campaign of Jew "hostages" arrests continued. Fritz Warburg, Hamburg banker and brother of the late Felix Warburg and Paul Moritz Warburg, American financiers, was reported to have been taken into custody.

Jews did not expect decrees aimed at cultural limitations to end with their banishment from German schools and universities.

Many Suicides

More decrees along this line were expected as soon as the Nazis found new opportunities to detach Jewish and German economic and cultural life by the establishment of ghettos.

New suicides were reported as Jews tried to raise nearly $500,000,000 to pay a fine levied on Jews as a whole and repair damage done to Jewish property by rioters.

Behind the announced Nazi motive for the drive—the killing of a minor German official of the embassy in Paris—some financial circles saw an acute Nazi economic situation as the real cause.

Germany faces a huge and rapidly mounting deficit, it was said. New funds were needed for Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's four year plan of economic self sufficiency, which had placed a heavy drain on the nation.

Need More Funds

The Reich already had floated this year more than $2,400,000,000 in new loans and it seems impossible to arrange additional loans, although more funds were needed to finance public works under the four year plan.

Although the fine on Jews would not solve the Reich financial problem it would reduce the deficit and alleviate the financial situation for a few months.

Meanwhile a group of prominent Jews, assessed a total of $6,400,000 to aid poorer Jews in repairing damaged property, were ordered to pay within a day or two.

It was believed that many of those assessed would be forced to liquidate realty and other holdings.

Flee Terrorists

The United States consulate was swamped with telegrams from abroad. Most asked for information regarding relatives and friends. More than 3000 persons gathered at the consulate attempting to obtain visas.

Refugees continued to stream into Berlin from the provinces to escape terrorism. They brought reports of even greater ruthlessness in the small towns than that in Berlin during last week's rioting.

PLAN FOR EMIGRATION OF JEWS FAILS

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(UP)—The United States, Great Britain and France asked Germany two weeks ago to discuss orderly emigration of potential refugees, including Jews, it was revealed today, but Germany so far has not replied.

The plan was for Germany to receive George Rublee, American director of the international refugee committee. The embassies of the three powers approached the German government after an inter-governmental commission lengthy prepared the way for negotiations designed to induce the Reich to permit refugees to take sufficient capital and property to make them acceptable immigrants in other countries.

It was understood Rublee expected a favorable reply and was ready to go to Berlin when the Paris assassination started the Jewish riots and made negotiations impossible.

FRANCE REFUSES TO CEDE COLONIES

PARIS, Nov. 15.—(UP)—France will refuse to cede any of her colonies to Germany if the proposal is made in discussions to satisfy the claims of Adolf Hitler, Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet announced today.

Bonnet made the announcement after a conference with Premier Edouard Daladier on the forthcoming visit to Paris late this month of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain. The announcement implied that the British and French leaders may discuss the question of colonies during Chamberlain's visit.

They were expected also to deal with general European affairs with special emphasis on events following the four power conference at Munich which decided the fate of Czechoslovakia and redefined its frontier.

terday, when she incurred Judge Guerin's wrath and an invitation to become the county's guest for an indefinite period if she wore them again, she was garbed in grayish green pants with an orange sweater. Upon her first visit she wore cream-colored ones, with a blue sweater.

Obviously Miss Hulick was right when she told Judge Guerin that she had only a few evening gowns, cut low back and front, and that her wardrobe consisted principally of slacks.

When she appeared inside the inclosure today awaiting the disposition of her case, Judge Guerin made no comment, but his eyebrows went up four inches at the sight he beheld.

She testified briefly against two negroes accused of burglarizing her home, and as she left the stand Judge Guerin ordered the bailiff to take her into custody awaiting disposition of her case.

Sloan Reveals Loan Scheme

Thus, a worker earning $1 an hour would have a standard wage of $40 weekly. If laid off, he could borrow 60 per cent, or $24 a week. Returning to work, he would repay $3 weekly, provided he worked full time.

The company would take the risk of the worker dying or failing to return to work. The company would carry no insurance on the fund.

Those with two years' service could borrow 40 per cent of their standard wage, but the total amount lent them would not exceed 2 hours' earnings at their average rate of pay.

Slack estimated that all but 50,000 of the company's 200,000 employees would benefit from the two plans.

Posse Captures Negro Attacker

VISALIA, Cal., Nov. 15.—(UP)—Accused of beating and attempting to assault a white farm housewife, John Miller, 35, a Negro, was held in the county jail here today.

The suspect was captured near Tulare last night by a posse of 150 armed men led by Constable C. C. Castle. Castle said the Negro admitted molesting Mrs. Waldo Glover, 23, resident of the Tulare district. Mrs. Glover told authorities Miller came up to her farmhouse asking for something to eat. When she handed him a sandwich, she said, he grabbed her by the arm and pulled her out of the house.

After a brief struggle during which Mrs. Glover said the Negro attempted to assault her, she escaped and locked herself in the house. A few minutes later the Negro fled and she ran to a neighbor's home for help.

Bones, Pet Dog, Finds Way Home

HANFORD, Cal., Nov. 15.—(UP)—Bones, the Boston bulldog with the direction-finding nose, was home today after making his way home on foot from a town in southern Texas.

Bones disappeared two months ago. His owner, Miles Fuller, learned his pet had been picked up by a family of cotton pickers and traced the family to Texas, despairing of ever seeing the dog again.

Fuller said Bones' paws showed signs of miles of traveling.

The consumption of gasoline by trucks has been estimated at approximately 4,300,000,000 gallons annually. The federal tax on that gasoline alone amounted to $48,000,000.

Green Freed In Pamphlet Case

his request, G. F. McKelvey suddenly terminated his defense today and argument immediately was commenced on the question of holding four defendants for trial on criminal conspiracy charges.

McKelvey had subpoenaed Attorney Edgar Hervey, of San Diego; Henry Foust, Santa Ana, referred to in the pamphlet as a gambling leader; Attorneys S. B. Kaufman and Leo J. Friss, of Anaheim; District Attorney W. F. Menton, Sheriff-elect Jesse L. Elliott, and H. R. Brinkerhoff and Carl Edgar, Santa Ana liquor store dealers who signed the Elliott nominating petition; also Don Wilkie, of Laguna Beach, one-time candidate for sheriff.

But, after calling F. A. Burkett, Huntington Beach oil man who posted McKelvey's bail at the time of his arrest, McKelvey then took the stand briefly, and let his defense rest there. Burkett testified that he had met McKelvey in Los Angeles on August 9, the date McKelvey withdrew the Follette bribery case transcript from the files of the Los Angeles county district attorney's office. This transcript, the prosecution claims, was used to make a companion pamphlet to "Fools Rush In."

"No Conspiracy"

McKelvey, said Burkett, had the transcript with him, and when he parted from McKelvey at 12:30 p. m., McKelvey told him he was going to read the transcript. McKelvey has asserted that he made no use of the transcript for the purpose of preparing a pamphlet.

McKelvey's own statement was limited to his statement that he had not known any of the other defendants before he saw them in court. In his subsequent argument to the court for dismissal, he pointed out that there could be no conspiracy when the defendants were not acquainted.

McKelvey began his defense late yesterday after his first motion for dismissal was denied. He called A. B. Berry, editor of the Santa Ana Independent, to the stand, and questioned Berry regarding his understanding whether statements made in the pamphlet to a newspaperman called "Col." meant Berry. Berry replied that such was his understanding.

During his argument for dismissal yesterday, McKelvey bitterly attacked Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker as having "deliberately perjured himself" by his court testimony that McKelvey had failed to cooperate in the pamphlet investigation. McKelvey also hit at the testimony of "Brick" Gaines, newspaperman, for his testimony regarding McKelvey.

deal to the delegates that the door to peace be kept open had been greeted by a four-minute demonstration of acclamation. The Chief Executive's plea was similar to the one he made to the Houston, Tex., convention of the A. F. L. last month.

Change Name

Simultaneously, it became known that the CIO's first constitution will change the name of the organization to the "Congress of Industrial Organizations"; will pledge CIO elegance to democratic principles and institutions and will promise strict CIO observance of the sanctity of contractual relations with employers.

Philip Murray, CIO vice chairman, who headed the "peace makers", vigorously defended the policy recommendations of the Martin report. He said they met President Roosevelt's wishes in the entirety.

"It leaves wide open the door of opportunity to attain that unity which we seek and does not deny the President's desire for unity in the labor movement," Murray explained.

LA VERNE HOLMES FACES HEARING AT BEACH

GIRL-WIFE ON RECOVERY ROAD

Charges of attempted murder, filed against La Verne Holmes, 22, Costa Mesa, who assertedly shot his girl wife, Virginia, twice late on Saturday night, November 5, will be heard in Huntington Beach instead of Santa Ana, officials decided yesterday.

Holmes was arraigned in Huntington Beach justice court yesterday and held for preliminary hearing Thursday at 2 p. m. The attempted murder charge filed against him in Santa Ana justice court was dismissed inasmuch as the alleged shooting occurred at Talbert in the Huntington Beach area.

Leaves Hospital
Virginia, only 16, who secured a divorce from Holmes October 23 here, recovered at Santa Ana Valley hospital and is resting at her home now. In the divorce action, she alleged cruelty and that Holmes caused the premature birth of their four months' old daughter, Barbara Jean. Virginia was shot through the breast and directly through the chest near the heart but the four wounds where the bullets entered and exited healed nicely, according to authorities.

A burglary charge, outgrowth of Holmes' entering a locked window to get Virginia, and two counts of kidnapping, result of his taking Virginia and Miss Edmonia Gaines, Greenville, on a forced, wild ride through the county, were dismissed.

War-Way Out? Speaker to Ask

Climaxing his three discussions of the present world conditions, Dr. John C. Duvall will discuss "Is War the Way Out?" in the Little Theater at the high school, 520 West Walnut street, at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Those who heard last week's discussion were anxious to hear Duvall's answer to this question, officials said.

These discussions of public affairs come weekly and are presented by the adult education department of Santa Ana Schools, with the cooperation of the U. S. Office of Education at Washington, D. C.

NEWS OF BROTHER'S DEATH IS RECEIVED

Word was received today of the death of Sam W. Garrett, 65, a former resident of Santa Ana, who died at his home yesterday in Montebello. Born in Baldwin, Missouri, Mr. Garrett came to Santa Ana nearly 20 years ago and since that time spent nearly 10 years in this community.

Last year Mr. Garrett moved to Montebello. He was a musician by profession and had been under a doctor's care for several weeks before his death.

Widow Survives
He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Emma Garrett, a son, Joseph Garrett, both of Montebello; and two brothers, George W. Garrett, of Bagby, Calif., and W. O. Garrett, of 715 McFadden street, Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow at the First Christian church, at El Monte. Burial will be made at El Monte cemetery.

CANDY AND HOT-DOGS PROMPT BOARD TO CHECK CAFETERIA

Santa Ana high school students, whose unguided tastes in the school cafeteria have led them mostly to the candy and hot dog counters, may shortly be introduced to the balanced diet.

The board of education last night by the cafeteria at a reduced cost, which would attract the students to it. Dr. Margaret Baker expressed belief that supervised selection of foods also should be installed. There should be someone in the cafeteria, she said, who would guide the students in selection of wholesome foods.

Ridley Smith, board member, suggested that both problems could be solved at once by concentrating on a combination lunch plate, which would provide the student with a balanced diet, and which, by specializing, could be supplied

THOMAS JEFFERSON NICKEL IN ORANGE COUNTY DEBUT TODAY

The time honored warning "don't take no wooden nickels" will be changed to "don't take no buffalo nickels" after today when the new Thomas Jefferson five-cent piece makes its debut in Santa Ana and Orange county.

Not that the old familiar, but 1932, has adorned the quarter, Abraham Lincoln has been on the penny since 1909.

President's Profile
"We have placed two special orders for the new nickel and, in spite of the fact that the government is minting 11,000,000 of them, we were told that the supply would be limited," Hanson said.

One one side of the coin is the profile of the third president and the author of the Declaration of Independence, while his beautiful Monticello home is represented on the other.

Jefferson became the third person to be pictured on a regular coin of the United States. George Washington has been on coins of several denominations, and since Confronted by a modern "Pigs Is Pigs" problem, Deputy Sheriff Winfred Phillips scratches his head in perplexity. Attempting to evict Harry Remsen from his New Cassel, L. L. pig farm, he learned 76 of the 800 porkers were expectant mothers. Fear of county liability if any died stayed the eviction.

3 MORE DRIVERS FACE CHARGES

Three men were booked at county jail today on drunk driving charges while a fourth man had pleaded not guilty yesterday before City Judge J. C. Mitchell here on the same charge and demanded jury trial.

Vandever C. Barbre, 50, Atwood, arrested November 6 in front of 2209 North Main, Santa Ana, on a drunk driving charge after his car collided with two other cars, was the man who demanded jury trial. The trial was set for December 6, 10 a. m. Dr. James Farrage was a passenger in one of the cars as it was struck by the Barbre car and pronounced Barbre "very drunk."

Collision Reported
Ramon Peralta, 45, Route 3, Anaheim, was arrested on charges of drunk driving and being drunk at 3:10 a. m. today after his car collided with a telephone pole at East Fourth and Hathaway streets. The arrest was made by Officers Ralph Pantuso and Clyde Flower. Peralta was pronounced "very drunk." His woman companion, Christine Fredricks, 31, Corona, owner of the car, was jailed on a drunk charge.

Ernest Ladd, 39, Buena Park, convicted in Anaheim on drunk driving charge, was sent to jail for 125 days. Tony Perez, 23, Norwalk, convicted at the same place, on drunk driving charge, was sent to jail for 75 days.

Presiding Elder To Be Honored

Spurgeon Memorial Church of Santa Ana will hold a reception this evening in honor of the new presiding elder of the Los Angeles district, Dr. J. L. Lyons, who are making their first visit to the local church since Dr. Lyons' appointment at the recent conference in Santa Ana.

The reception is set for 6:30 p. m. Ladies of the church will serve a potluck supper, which will be followed by a program of music and short talks. Dr. Lyons giving the main address.

Dr. Lyons, who replaced Dr. J. A. B. Frye as presiding elder, formerly was pastor of St. Paul's church in Fresno.

Court Notes

A petition asking dissolution of the Elitiste Land Company, of Orange, has been filed in superior court by the three directors of the company, August and Carl J. Elitiste and Mrs. Anna B. Muench.

Petition to probate the will of the late John H. Rodieck, 71, of Orange, who died October 31, was on file today in superior court. Rodieck, who was unmarried, left his $21,528.05 estate to his sister, Lena Rodieck, the will disclosed. The estate includes one 11-acre ranch and a 10-acre ranch.

The late J. F. Miller, who died last June 13, left an estate valued at $18,352.58, according to an inventory and appraisalment just filed in superior court, showing $98,000 stock in the Smart and Final company and $5400 in other securities.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in superior court by the Glaspell Manufacturing company, which plans to manufacture and sell pumps in Orange county. The three directors, however, are Los Angeles county residents: H. J. and William F. Glaspell, of Bell, and C. S. Mauk, of Los Angeles. The company is incorporated for $100,000 in capital stock.

'NEW BOOKS, NEW WORLDS' IS THEME OF LIBRARY AFFAIR

"New Books, New Worlds," the theme of national book week, November 14 to 19, will be of special significance to residents of Cypress, who, tomorrow will celebrate the opening of their branch county library just one year ago.

Mrs. Ray King, custodian of the branch, extends an invitation to all library friends and patrons to the "open house" reception between 2 and 5 p. m. tomorrow, at the library, located on the corner of Lincoln and South Walker streets. In addition to an attractive display of new books for young folk, there will be an exhibit of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, also a Dutch village.

Shipment of Books
Adults will be interested, it is said, in seeing the shipment of about 100 books just received, including the following late titles: Widsom's Gate (Barnes), Let Me Show You New Hampshire (Bowles), Salads and Herbs (Brown), Holl's Hip Pocket (Coolidge), She Was Carrie Eaton (Cobbett), Rebecca (Du Maurier), All This and Heaven Too (Field), Horse and Buggy Doctor (Hertzler), Listen, The Wind (Lindbergh), High of Heart (Loring), If You're Going to Live in the Country (Ormsbee), Sons of the Saddle (Raine), My Days (Mrs. E. Roosevelt), Unfamiliar Faces (Rosman), Young Dr. Galahad (Siefert), New Frontiers of Religion (Swift), Singin' Fiddler of Lost Hope Hollow (Thomas), This is Me, Kathie (Yenni).

Transfers Made
Old residents of Cypress today recalled earlier attempts to establish library service in their community. In 1921 a small "station" library of 200 books was sent out by the county library, being cared for by M. M. Carpenter in his real estate office.

Two years later a similar collection of books was transferred to Cypress school, where Calvert Norland had charge of circulating discontinued. The establishment of a branch library November 15, 1937, in the former Cypress bank building marked the first fully organized type of library service there. Now, a year later, it has more than 1000 books and 239 card holders.

ELGIN NEW OIL WELLS PROJECTED AT H. B.

COUNCIL PLANS FOR ROAD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 15.—The Southwest Exploration will start work on four more tidal wells at once, permits for the project being granted by the city council last night. Of the two wells started by the company some time ago, one is ready for a production test.

Licenses were also issued to the oil company for derrick construction. To date the oil company has not signed the contract to pay the city $175,000 and two per cent equal to the state's royalty.

Derrick licenses were also granted to S. S. Wold, Pasadena and Balboa oil man, for three wells, one on seventeenth and Olive, another at sixteenth and Olive, and the third one at fifteenth and Walnut and to E. A. Beaudette for a well at eighteenth and Acacia.

The city is progressing rapidly with the plans for the Frankfort street cut-off from Alabama street to Main street with the purchase of the Dennis Hall property on Alabama, and with the calling for bids on December 5 on four of the five houses that lie in the path of the new thoroughfare.

Bids Requested
The council instructed City Engineer Harry Overmyer to ask for bids on the moving of the H. F. Rumpson house on Lake street to Thirteenth and Main streets. The building to be used as the new Girl Scout cabin. City Attorney Ray Overacker will start proceedings to clear title on the Girl Scout cabin site, which is tax property.

The Hall property of four lots was purchased for $1650 cash. There are no houses on that property, but on the adjoining property formerly owned by W. R. McKee, is a large two-story dwelling of 10 rooms that is considered a problem to move.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

Several Orange county citizens were among the 2500 who witnessed the opening of the state convention of farm bureau at Sacramento last Sunday evening. Four hundred and 22 members of Farm Bureau choruses similar to the one in this county, which furnished nine of the numbers, were heard in a sacred concert staged at the Sacramento Municipal Auditorium. "Led by Frank Pierce, former Santa Ana and Anaheim resident, the chorus of mixed voices made a fine impression on the audience," officials said.

Chorus Is Praised
Mrs. Mabel D. Ahart, President of Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation, praised the chorus and used its appearance as the keynote of her address stressing happiness, service and cooperation. "True religion is a synonym of true happiness," stated Mrs. Ahart, "and both are gained by service."

Pierce is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Pierce, Anaheim, who are in attendance at the convention. H. W. Pierce is manager of the Anaheim Cooperative Orange Association.

Twenty-five local representatives took part in the commodity meetings on Monday, at which many policies of the organization and its program for the following year were discussed and outlined. The convention closes Thursday.

CHURCH PLANS

NEW BUILDING

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 15.—Material is on the ground for the new home of the Midway City Community Friends church at Jackson and Madison streets, following the recent turkey dinner when 208 tickets at $5 each were sold.

Money Raised
A substantial amount is assured since money has been subscribed locally and by the Friends church extension board.

The hostess committee under the direction of Mrs. Cleo Hazard arranged unique table decorations, which included miniature men and women in Quaker costumes and churches. Tall white tapers and colorful fruits centered each table.

Principal speaker of the evening was Prof. J. Mahlin Harvey, of Whittier college, who was in France when the Armistice was signed, and who told of his experiences there. Ben Harley Moore, superintendent of the yearly meeting of Friends and other church dignitaries were introduced by J. Parker Gozand.

Musical Program
Community singing was led by Phil Gatch, choir master of First Friends church of Los Angeles, and he presented as solo number, "The Holy City," with Mrs. Gatch accompanying. Lone Star of the Friends Indian center of Los Angeles presented three trumpet solo selections while the local church orchestra composed of Bob Pritchard, Bob Enoch, Gene Smith, Doris Joan Foley, Donald Hall, with Mrs. Kenneth Beno, accompanying, presented three numbers. Will B. Wicksham of the visiting delegation was responsible for most of the program while R. Ernest Lamb acted as toastmaster.

MASKS USED IN DUMPING RUM

Steel wire masks, such as fencers use, are now worn by liquor control officers of the State Board of Equalization when engaged in destroying liquor confiscated by them under provisions of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act.

At regular intervals confiscated liquor is destroyed in accordance with the law which also provides that bottles containing distilled spirits must be broken when emptied. This latter provision is responsible for the masks.

Cut by Glass
While destroying bottles recently several officers were badly cut by flying glass. Also, some of the high-powered liquor distilled by bootleggers, exploded as soon as the bottles were jostled. Gloves protected the officers' hands but their faces were exposed to serious injury.

William G. Bonelli, member of the board, then issued the order that masks must be worn when liquor is being destroyed.

She was a missionary in China. Then she wrote "The Good Earth" and other best-sellers. Now Pearl S. Buck has won the 1938 Nobel Literature Prize.

RECEPTION AT HOME NOV. 20

The Junior Assistance League of Pomona valley today invited the general public to a reception on Sunday, November 20, from 3 until 5 o'clock, celebrating the opening of Casa Colina, a convalescent home for crippled children, at Chino.

Patients Received
The members of the Junior Assistance league have been watching the progress of Casa Colina for the past 18 months, and were particularly pleased when the announcement was made that it is open and patients are being cared for. Now they are joining with the board of trustees that the general public may know the possibilities of the institution.

Casa Colina, in addition to furnishing convalescent care for most types of crippled children, also stresses the rebuilding process from an environmental and scholastic standpoint. Mrs. Clarice Hutchinson, an experienced teacher of underprivileged children, has been assigned to the home. A school room is being prepared and equipped so that all teaching requirements for children, between the ages of five and 18 will be provided.

The equipment of Casa Colina is said to be the last word in physical therapy technique. The pool, which was a gift of Mrs. Elmer Somers, is complete in every detail with heating plant, modern filters and facilities for perfect sanitation.

Modern Hospital Beds
The first two ward units are completely equipped with the most modern hospital beds. The kitchen is operating under the guidance of Mrs. Lucinda Kester. A competent nursing staff has been engaged and the whole organization is operating very efficiently, it was stated.

Casa Colina is a direct result of the idealism and untiring effort of Mrs. Frances Eleanor Smith of Claremont, the American Mother of 1936. She has been ably assisted by the board of trustees.

Casa Colina is located five miles south of Pomona on Highway 71. The post office address is Chino.

Christian Science

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Paul's words to the Corinthians, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new," were the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mortals and Immortals" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

Among the scriptural citations were these verses from Paul's epistle to the Galatians: "But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law. To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the statement: "The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. Matter is not that like us. The likeness of Spirit cannot be so unlike Spirit. Man is spiritual and perfect; and because he is spiritual and perfect, he must be so understood in Christian Science."

AID GROUP TO MEET

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Arthur Hobson, of Orange, will be the guest speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Aid society to be held Thursday in the First Methodist church. The afternoon program will be in charge of Mrs. E. M. Dozier.

The business meeting will be conducted at 10 o'clock followed by luncheon served by the different circles. Mrs. J. M. Chilson, president of the general aid, urges all members to be present and bring a guest.

Rheumatism

Just Do What You See In These Pictures To Relieve Pain Quickly

1. Take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets with a full glass of water the moment you feel either a rheumatic or neuritic pain coming on.

2. You should feel relief very quickly. If pain is unusually severe, repeat according to directions.

Just Be Sure To Use Genuine Bayer Aspirin

To relieve pain of rheumatism or neuritis quickly, try the Bayer Aspirin way—shown above.

People everywhere say results are remarkable. Yet Bayer Aspirin costs only about one cent a tablet, which makes the use of expensive "pain remedies" unnecessary.

If this way fails, see your doctor. He will find the cause and correct it. While there, ask him about taking Bayer Aspirin to relieve these pains. We believe he will tell you there is no more effective, more dependable way normal persons may use.

When you buy, make sure you get genuine BAYER Aspirin.

DRIVER 'OUT OF LUCK' IF LIGHTS FAIL TO FUNCTION

If the lights of your automobile fail to function some night and you are many miles from assistance, the law holds you are "out of luck."

That was the "hard-luck" news handed out by Capt. H. E. Meehan, head of the California Highway patrol in Orange county, today in presenting answers to a series of questions sent in by interested motorists. One motorist said he was 25 miles from assistance recently when his car's lighting system failed.

Offense Against Safety
"To drive without lights under such circumstances is an offense against your own life and safety as well as that of others," the captain stated. "The law does require such vehicle to be moved to a place of safety where it will not interfere with nor endanger other traffic but cannot be driven on the highways."

"I am a girl, 14," said another Californian, "and live in the country, use my bicycle to ride to and from school. On which side of the road must I ride? One person tells me on the right side, another on the left. I am all confused just like many others at our school."

Right Side of Highway
"You should always ride on the right side of the highways just the same as all other traffic," Captain Meehan stated. "Only when walking should you use the left side of the highway."

"Is a police radio prohibited in a privately-owned car?" another person asked. "This subject is pretty well covered now by various local ordinances but there is no state law on the subject," the captain said. Police Chief Floyd W. Howard of Santa Ana, state Santa Ana has no ordinance prohibiting police radios in private cars.

NEW BRILLIANT ACHIEVEMENT SEEN FOR THURSDAY CONCERT

Another brilliant achievement is due to be scored by the Santa Ana federal symphony orchestra when it plays again this Thursday evening at the high school auditorium.

Providing a musical treat for the county's ardent concert-devotees in the third concert on its autumn calendar—a series attended by large audience—the program, sparkling and widely contrasting will be made up of the overture to Weber's opera, "Abu Hassan," Tchaikovsky's "Italian Caprice," and, as its program feature, the Second Symphony in D major, by Brahms.

Great Symphony
The 60-piece orchestra, augmented by 10 members of the Los Angeles unit, is ready to give a virile and stalwart reading of the great symphony, Leon Eckles, orchestra conductor, declared, adding that the advance seat sale augurs for a capacity house.

The concert will be further heightened by the guest appearance of Olive Eleanor Schweitzer, talented 16-year-old pianist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schweitzer of this city. She is to play Cesar Franck's "Symphonic Variations," for piano and orchestra.

Laudable Selection
"Sheer melodic beauty characterizes the entire program," said Eckles, pointing to the happy, heartening nature of the vast and beautiful Brahms work, the originality and humor of the "Abu Hassan" overture, and the pulse-stirring Tchaikovsky number.

Referring to Miss Schweitzer's piano selection, the conductor declared it an admirable vehicle for the display of the young musician's talents. "It is a remarkable piece of writing and, to properly interpret it, requires dash, virility and a close attention to details, all of which Miss Schweitzer is prepared to give."

The official called particular attention to the concert commencing on the stroke of 8:15 p. m. "The doors will be closed at that time until the conclusion of the overture in order to avoid the confusion of late-comers taking their seats during its performance."

For your most comfortable winter install automatic gas heat

Modern equipment keeps rooms uniformly warm—requires no attention

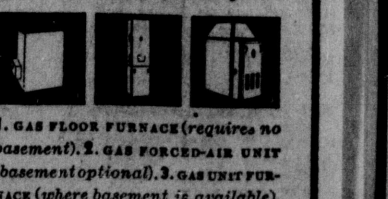

Make every hour indoors an hour of comfort this winter! Your home will be assured of healthful warmth "from the floor up" with automatic gas heat. And the cost will not be great. Just note these special reasons for providing your family with adequate gas heating equipment at once:

1. Your household will begin the cold months with greater comfort and convenience plus the health-protecting advantages of proper warmth. No need to be continually adjusting appliances to keep heat uniform. You will have correct circulation of air; no dampness on walls.

2. Easy terms eliminate any need for delay. Install automatic equipment now and pay for it by the month.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Ebell Members Pay Honor To Club Founders

One afternoon each year is set aside by Ebell society to pay tribute to that little group within the membership, who by founding the society in 1894, laid such a firm structure upon which the city's clubwomen have built. To this small handful of women that tribute was paid yesterday, when Mrs. W. S. Thomson, Ebell president and her committee workers entertained at the annual Founders Day tea.

Miss Lulu Minter, chairman and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, assistant chairman of the hospitality committee, had the responsibility of planning the function. Their committee members, co-operating in every way, were Mesdames Perry Lewis, Warren Brakeman, W. L. Ferrey, C. A. Vance, Jessie White, H. G. Parker, E. S. Gilbert, W. W. Kyles, Emil Wagner, Leonard G. Swales, Porter Luther, Louis Vorhis and F. L. Sims.

Past presidents also were called upon to aid in the ritual of pouring tea and in receiving the honor guests, several of whom were also charter members, including Mrs. J. R. Medlock, "Mother of Ebell." In this group of floor hostesses with Mrs. Medlock, were Mrs. Samuel M. Davis, Mrs. E. M. Nealey, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. S. W. Nau, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. Charles V. Davis and Mrs. Fred C. Rowland.

Baskets of greenery were placed about the peacock room where the gala affair found setting, and made a charming background for the special guests, all of whom were beautifully gowned. Two tables were arranged in the Past Presidents' colors of pink and gold. One had its lace cloth laid over delicate pink—the other over shining yellow. Flowering and the Bouquet Shop, interested in the function, had sent the beautiful blossoms garlanding these tables. One was in yellow tied with wide golden ribbons, and with a touch of pink carnations. The other was just in reverse, its main blossoms and ribbons stressing the rosy note with an accent of gold.

Four of the past presidents were seated at the silver tea and coffee urns. Mrs. Terry Stephenson and Mrs. Robert G. Tutthill presided at the yellow table, and Mrs. John Clarkson and Mrs. W. L. Grubb at the one in pink. Their four Junior Ebell aides were Mrs. Russell Wilson, Mrs. Edmund West, Miss Mary Tutthill and Mrs. Calvin Flint. Other Junior Ebell aides in serving the cakes, food in pink and golden chocolate, the mints and salted nuts were Mesdames Walter Bacon, Ray Trevorror, N. Carleton Smith, Manley Nelson, Arthur Wade and Quentin Matzen. They too were in formal afternoon gowns of silk or velvet.

The majority of those who heard Mrs. Jack Valley's program at the preceding business meeting, lingered to enjoy the friendliness of the tea hour, exchange greetings with the past presidents and the hostesses, and most of all, to offer their congratulations to those founders who perhaps, as is the case with human-kind, "built better than they knew."

Huckleberry Finn, Betsy Ross, Topsy and Eva, Harold Lloyd and Charlie McCarthy were among characters depicted at Party. First prize went to Miss Margaret Young, who appeared as Little Eva. The hostess' young son, Master Tommy Glaab spent the early part of the evening with the group, wearing a Spanish costume for the occasion.

Mrs. Glaab's sister, Miss Mary Fitzpatrick added to the enjoyment of the evening by dancing several Hawaiian numbers, explaining the significance of the various hulas. In advance of bridge play, Mrs. Glaab served chocolate sundaes and individual cakes with coffee. Guests were seated at a table decorated with chrysanthemums and yellow tapers. Mrs. Virgil Reed and the hostess held the two highest scores in cards.

Sharing the event in addition to the group mentioned were Mesdames Robert Lufbery, Walter Templeton, Russell Daley, Kenneth Hill and the Misses Hum Kendall, Blanche Siegel, Edna Mae Heim and Jeannette Jorgensen.

Entertaining Sunday in compliment to their house-guest, Mrs. John Storey of Shabbona, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lamb and their daughter, Miss Mary Lamb, had a pleasant dinner in their home, 620 West Sixth street. Mrs. Storey will conclude her Santa Ana visit tomorrow and go into Los Angeles for a few days with relatives and friends before returning east. She is a cousin of Mrs. Lamb. In the group of dinner guests Sunday were Mrs. Lamb's sister, Mrs. M. E. Dorn of Los Angeles, Mr. Cornell, also of that city, and Will Kennedy of Waterman, Iowa, a cousin of Mrs. Storey, who is making an extended Southernland visit and is now with Los Angeles friends.

Various Parties Given On Night of League Dancing Party

In connection with the dance which St. Anne's League gave Saturday night at Santa Ana Country club were various hospitalities, some given before the big party and others staged at the close of the evening of dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Borchard were among those who entertained following the dance. Their home on Fairview road was scene of a delightful supper party which they shared with Mr. and Mrs. John Maritz and Miss Bernice Borchard, this city Mr. and Mrs. William Lipe of Escondido, who remained as weekend guests in the home; Miss Barbara Hodgskin, Walter Dunn and Charles Minor, Monrovia; Miss Eleanor Shior and Fred Schreiber, Long Beach.

Mrs. Walter Markel received another group in her home on McCadden street. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Earl, John and Anthony Loftus, Miss Veronica Leiner, Los Angeles; Miss Angie Pelner and Louis Haag, San Fernando; Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Cook, Albert Banks, Scott Cunningham, Clarence Sackerson, Albert Markel, L. J. Long; Miss Dorine Haupt, Miss Geraldine Haupt, Miss Pat Rosewall, and Sam Braas, this city; Mr. Markel was unable to be present, having left the night before for the east.

Several guests assembled in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carahan, 610 East Chestnut street before the dance. In the party were Mesdames and Mesdames Cyrus Peasterly, Robt. L. Sandon, John Cleary, and Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Halber, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bueckle of Bakersfield and Mrs. T. L. Renfro of Taft.

J. C. Art Students Make Christmas Cards

Members of Alpha Rho Tau, honorary Jaycee art club, are now working on Christmas cards to be sold during the holiday season. The cards will soon be on display in College hall showcases. Proceeds from the sale will be used to make additions to the art department's equipment.

Twenty-five pledges received into the club at a recent meeting in the art bungalow, were instructed in their duties and told something of the history of the club. Root beer floats and cookies were served following a session of games. The Misses Lucile Yensen, Ida Marie Holland, Margie Lee Brown and Wanda Todd, with the assistance of Miss Frances Egge, club adviser, made arrangements for the affair.

New members in the organization are Eileen Gowdy, Roberta Shaffer, Alice Shannon, Barbara Hall, June Swingle, Ellen Neal, Frances Faus, Mary E. Smith, Bettie Timmons, Nadene Parker, Ida Bergsetzer, Ethelyn Stuart, William Talevich, Ron Perry, Evelyn Myracle, Leigh Birkeland, Vernon Carlson, Francis Bamberg, Lora Mae Kuntz, Baxter Smith, Orin Smith, Dorothy Abbott and Maurine McClintock.

Other club members who were present at the meeting included Margie Lee Brown, Jean Macaulay, Charlotte McCausland, Upton Pett, Ida Marie Holland, Lucile Yensen and Wanda Todd.

Mr. Thomas Crocker entertained informally Saturday afternoon in her home, 1530 North Sycamore street in compliment to Mr. Crocker's mother, Mrs. E. H. Crocker and Mrs. Charles Proctor of Cedar Rapids, I., who arrived a week ago for an extended Southernland visit.

Included in the group of ten guests were Miss Louise Mansfield, formerly of the music department of Santa Ana High school and her mother, Mrs. L. W. Mansfield, both of San Pedro.

The hostess served tea during the event, which came as one of several features planned in courtesy to the visitors.

World Affairs Discussed By Ebell Society Speaker

"That stone cast into the sea of international affairs by the action taken in Munich on September 29, set up waves that are washing the shores of every country in the world," declared Mrs. Jack Valley in that stirring talk on world affairs which she addressed yesterday afternoon to Ebell society members.

It was Mrs. Valley's final appearance before the organization which she has headed since the late Eugene Manlove Rhodes, now being recognized as one of the fine writers of his time. Anne Morrow Lindbergh's "Listen! the Wind," sensitive and with a delicate humor, will add to fame already gained by her first book; "Charles Laughton and I" by Elsa Lancaster (Mrs. Laughton) has special appeal to those interested in stage and screen; "My Sister Alleen" (Ruth McKenney) will appeal to anyone with a sense of humor; Rachel Field's "All This and Heaven Too," the reviewer predicted as a Christmas best seller and one to become classic with its style as a novel, but dealing with actual happenings.

She went into more detail with "Journey of Tapiola" (Robert Nathan), that whimsical little tale that at first seems so slight and fanciful but that impresses deeply with its caustic criticism until it seems very deep indeed. "Golden Hoofs" (William Cary Duncan) story of the greatest trotting mare of her time, also has as background, the race track history of America. "Rebecca" Daphne du Maurier's brilliant mystery novel, and "East of the Giants" by George R. Stewart of the Berkeley faculty, a realistic and dramatic story of old California ranches, completed her list.

Of the group, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, in whose home Ebell society was founded 44 years ago, was asked to stand to receive the plaques of the clubwomen for her generous gift of $50 to the organization, an annual gesture of friendliness on her part.

Attention was called by the president to the interest of the meeting on November 28, when E. J. Anderson, president of Redlands University, will talk on "Good Will and How to Get Along."

A New Era Mrs. Valley's talk seemed to cover the entire foreign situation, and she declared that the Munich pact marked the close of the so-called "Post-War Era," and that we are now living in a "Post-Munich World." She expressed strong doubt of Hitler's sincerity in asserting that Germany is now satisfied and will demand no more territorial revisions in central Europe, advising her audience to "watch for news from Poland." For Hitler has already declared that the Polish Corridor must be abolished, and since this so-called corridor is directly in his path to the Russian Ukraine, she believes that the present is only one of the famous "breathing spells" he permits the world.

Another of her opinions was that the recent war scare was elaborately staged to get European peoples in a frame of mind to accept any commitments that France and England might make. The moral collapse and bitter disillusionment in France's abrogation of her agreement with Czechoslovakia; the present power of Germany; the Anglo-German pact; the granting of belligerent right to General Franco in Italy by Great Britain, with probability of affecting supplies to the Loyalists; the Japanese drive into Central China; the rebbing of the tide of Fascism; the possibilities of the United States joining in the censorship of radio thus curtailing our sources of general information, all were touched upon in her talk before she gave a swift glance at the books on her November list.

Looks at Books In the Wilfred J. Funk book—a very small one—"When the Merry-Go-Round Breaks Down," she explained how the opinions of editorial and newspaper writers since the date of 1837, had been compiled by Funk. Results show a tendency for history to repeat itself in national crises. "Benjamin Franklin" (Carl Van Doren) she described as the finest biography yet of Franklin, and a book that every collector should own. Gertrude Atherton's "Can Women Be Gentlemen?" a collection of clever essays; "The Hired Man on Horseback" is a sensitive and charming biography by May D. Rhodes of her husband, the late Eugene Manlove Rhodes, now being recognized as one of the fine writers of his time.

Club members returned to the Hasenjaeger home for an evening of bridge play which brought prizes for Mrs. Paul Johnson and a guest, Mrs. Lawrence Reynolds. Others present were the hostess and Mesdames L. E. Holmes, Allan Carstenson, Carleton Smith and the Misses Mary Jean Du Bois and Dorothy Dunbar.

Mrs. Hasenjaeger served an elaborate cake dessert with tea at the close of the evening.

Phi Sigmas Announce Plans for Dance November 26

Attractive bids have been issued for an annual fall dance which the local Alpha Alpha chapter of Phi Sigma fraternity will hold Saturday night, November 26 at 9:30 o'clock at Lakeview Country club, Long Beach. According to the custom established by the chapter several years ago, there will be corsage bouquets as favors for feminine guests. This will be a semi-formal affair.

Phil Dows, president of the chapter, is in charge of arrangements for the dance, planned as a post-Thanksgiving gaiety. Fred Pimental has secured the orchestra; Ed Velarde is chairman of bids; Bascom Rush, flowers; and Mac Mansfield, chapter secretary, in charge of publicity.

Announcement was made today of a meeting of Phi Sigma's Delta province Thursday night in the local chapter's rooms in the Arcade. Plans will be completed for a midwinter dance which the province will hold January 14 at the Los Angeles Biltmore Rendezvous room.

Series of Fall Parties Launched by Mr. and Mrs. Reinhaus

One of a series of pleasant bridge dinners which Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Reinhaus are planning as autumn hospitalities in their home, 2406 Oakmont avenue, was staged Saturday evening when they were hosts at the introductory affair.

Mrs. Reinhaus developed a colorful decorative theme of the autumn season with her use of fruits in rich shades, in combination with ivory tapers. For candlesticks nested on ivory leaves on each of the small four corner tables, she used golden yellow persimmons, and similar persimmon candle holders flanked the plaque of fruits centering the large dining table. Place cards in harmony with the theme, later designated partner arrangements for bridge play, for which half a dozen tables were required. When tally cards were collected at the close of the contract session, the hosts made their prize awards to Mrs. Richard Couden and Mrs. Anton Segerstrom for high scores among feminine guests, and to Messrs. Maurice Enderle and Abraham Eidelson, with similar ratings among the men.

Y. W. C. A. Board Hears Miss McFadden in Excellent Talk

Although there were many business matters to be considered last night when executive board members of the Y. W. C. A. met in the association clubrooms, chief interest was expressed in the after-session talk by Miss Mabel McFadden, recent delegate to the World Council conclave of Y. W. C. A. held in Spokane, Wash.

Mrs. W. Dixon Guthrie, association president, was in charge of the business session which opened with devotionals by Mrs. Louis Davis. Since this is World Fellowship week, being observed in the 52 countries of the world where Y. W. C. A. is operating, Mrs. Davis used the devotionals that are now being used all over the world at similar meetings.

Mrs. E. D. Froeschle, Girl Reserves chairman, told highlights of the recent conference in Pasadena of Southland Girl Reserves chairmen. Mrs. Guthrie then presented Mrs. Thomas Crocker, who has been appointed as chairman of public affairs, succeeding Mrs. Braden Finch. Mrs. Finch resigned from that post last summer when she and Mr. Finch left for their extensive travels.

When Miss McFadden was introduced as speaker for the remainder of the program she chose for her topic, the personalities of the remarkable women from all parts of the world, drawn to the recent Spokane conference. She gave such a graphic word-picture of the personnel that members were impressed anew by the remarkable women identified with the association.

Board members present with Mrs. Guthrie and Miss McFadden were the Misses Mary Howard, Y. W. secretary; Katherine Judd, Ethel Coffman, Mabel Cole, Beas Wood, Vanche Plumb, Dr. Mabel Geddes, Mesdames Cood Adams, Hiram Currey, Louis Davis, E. D. Froeschle, Clarence Gaudin, Horace J. Howard, Max Heine, C. E. Smith and M. Burr Wellington.

Mary Knoche's Wedding Plans Are Revealed

Hawaii's romantic spell was cast over last night's meeting of Junior college Moans, since Miss Mary Knoche took this opportunity to announce her betrothal and approaching spring wedding to Conrad Busch of Honolulu, T. H. It was just last summer that the bride-elect paid a visit to the Islands.

Hostess last night was Miss Vera Scott in her home on the Irvine ranch. Miss Coral C. Ike, vice president, conducted a meeting during which Christmas party plans were discussed, and members decided upon the club plans. At the close of the business meeting, a box of chocolates and an accompanying card with the words, "Mary and Conny, spring, 1939" appeared. Miss Knoche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Knoche of Irvine, visited with Conrad Busch's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Busch Jr. of Honolulu last summer. The bridegroom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Busch of the Islands.

Members discussed the romantic news while enjoying refreshments of jelly and cakes served from a prettily-arranged table centered with sunny yellow flowers. Present were Miss Knoche and her mother, Mrs. Otto Knoche; the Misses Barbara Lowry, Mildred Tucker, Norma Battle, Jeannette Bradley, Marian Bradley, Betty Austin, Carol Oelke, Ida Ruth Smith, Dorothy Skinner, Dolores Orthers, Dorothy Gross, Lucille Holmes, Dorothy Flaherty, Connie Means, Jean McKamy, Evelyn Wright, Gwendolyn Markham, Scott and the adviser, Miss Alice Smith.

Election of Officers Held by Circle

Election of officers took place during Amber Circle's latest meeting in Masonic temple, where members assembled following luncheon at the Rossmore. Re-elected were Mrs. Leona Miller, president and Mrs. Zeta Edmunds, secretary, while Mrs. Adelaide Lowe, vice-president and Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, treasurer were named as new officers.

Hostesses were Mesdames Lois Pearson, Catherine Reid, Nell Winslow, Alice White, Mildred Taylor, Edith Wilson, Nell Neighbour and John Rinard. Mrs. Henrietta Dahl won sewing contest of the afternoon. Mrs. Anna Towner Ream and Mrs. Helen Neill were rewarded for their high scores in contract, while Mrs. Alice White and Mrs. Nell Winslow won prizes in auction.

Guests were little Miss Lois Patterson and Mrs. M. D. Murphy. Announcement was made that the Circle's next meeting will be in the nature of a Christmas party.

Alpha Gamma Rho Alumni Hold Meeting

Thirty members and guests of Alpha Gamma Rho, national agricultural fraternity, assembled Saturday night at Danigers for a dinner meeting of Southern California alumni group of the organization.

Ross E. Crane of this city, Southern California alumni secretary and John Gilmore of Anaheim made arrangements for the event. Speaker was Dwight Rutherford of Los Angeles, Southern California editor of Pacific Rural Press, who is first vice-president of the national organization of Alpha Gamma Rho.

Alumni members from as far south as Oceanside and as far north as Ventura were present for the dinner, which was followed by an informal social time in Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore's home.

You And Your Friends

Mrs. T. L. Renfro of Taft returned home Sunday after a few days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Featherly, 1916 North Birch street.

Julius Markel, 2128 Greenleaf street, and his son, Walter Markel, East McCadden street left Friday for a visit with relatives in their former home city, New Orleans, La. From there they plan to go to Chicago, and thence to Detroit, Mich., to take delivery on a new car, beginning the homeward trip about November 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carnahan, 610 East Chestnut street, had as week-end guests, Mrs. Carnahan's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bueckle of Bakersfield.

D. J. Murphy left Sunday night for his home in Santa Paula after a week's visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, 2219 Orange avenue. Mr. Murphy marched with the V.F.W. unit in the Armistice day parade in Orange.

Surprise Dinner Party Marks Host's Birthday

Friends who assembled Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rumell, 702 South Van Ness avenue, took part in a gala surprise party which Mrs. Rumell had planned in celebration of her husband's birthday.

Each couple brought a toothsome dish for the dinner served early in the evening. Mrs. John Vernon brought a pretty birthday cake on whose frosting were the words, "Happy Birthday, Charles." The confection, placed on a hob-nail glass cake stand, centered the dining table, which was further adorned with small turkey figures and persimmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Allen, whose combined scores in bridge entitled them to first prize, received a cream-filled cake made by the hostess. Mrs. Rumell also had made the nut bread which rewarded Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maylen for their second high scores. White elephant gifts were exchanged during the evening. Mr. Rumell received a card table as a gift of the group.

Present with the hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames George Lipincott, John Turton, John Vernon, Harold Maylen, this vicinity; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Allen, Long Beach.

Party is Planned As Birthday Surprise

With Mrs. Gaile Hughes as hostess, members of an intimate little group of friends assembled Saturday evening in the pretty new home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gish, 711 Eastwood street, to celebrate Mr. Gish's birthday. Mr. Gish had been taken into the confidence of the party hostesses, so had the home—blooming with chrysanthemums and zinnias. Card tables were set to place soon after arrival of the guests, and an evening of Chinese checkers enjoyed. Mrs. Robert E. Brown and Mrs. Porter Perry took first and consolation prizes in the game, with Mr. Perry and Henry Phillips taking similar honors among the men.

To conclude her gay plans, Mrs. Hughes served a midnight supper whose salad and sandwich course was followed by birthday cake and coffee. Finale came with the presentation to Mrs. Gish of a collection of pretty birthday gifts, of the group with Mr. and Mrs. Gish and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were Mr. and Mrs. Porter Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Brown, Miss Gerie Simmons and Henry Phillips.

Participating in the afternoon recital were Helen Lockett, Virginia Murphy, Robert Hockaday, Julia Day, Marylyn Munselle and Joanne Hockaday, and the charmingly presented program climaxed with the brilliant "Malaguena" from a Spanish suite, played by Margaret Lockette and Miss Birchard.

All the young artists were Junior pupils to Miss Birchard, and their families and friends lingered after the recital to compliment them upon their work, and to enjoy the friendliness of the home.

Mrs. Samuel Hart and Mrs. A. C. Munselle assisted Mrs. Birchard and Miss Birchard in serving punch and wafers. In the evening hours when open house again was maintained, a score of young people of Junior college age shared a pleasant reunion and a musical interlude. Appearing on the impromptu program were Marvin Penhall, the Misses Margaret Baxter, Eileen Baumbach and Phyllis Andres.

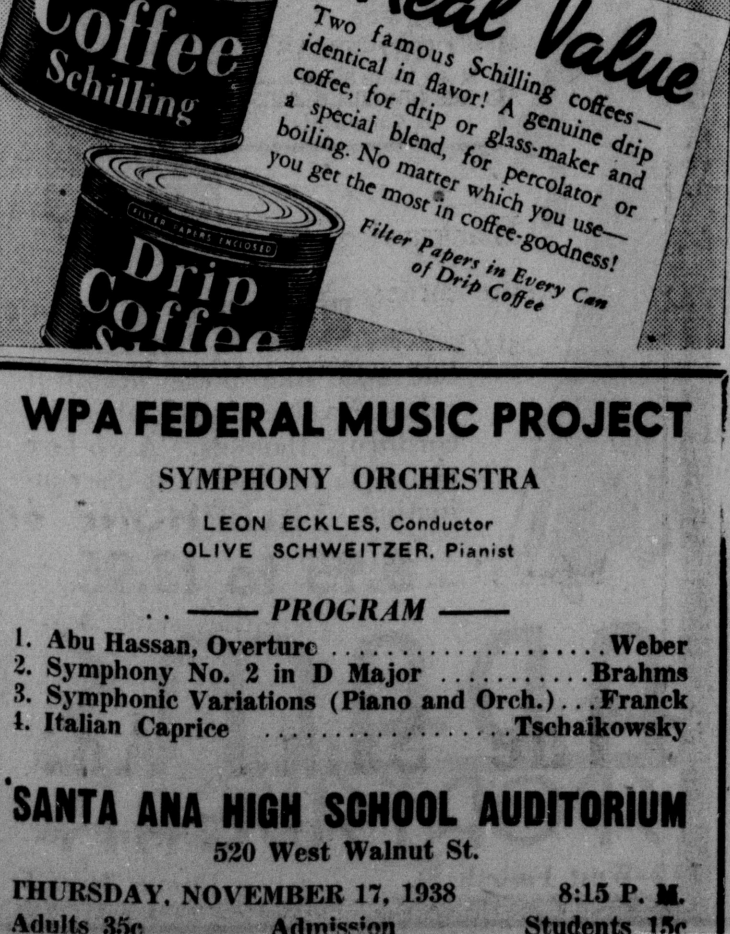

Festive Dance Given By St. Anne's League

Santa Ana Country club was scene of a festive affair Saturday night when St. Anne's league entertained with a semi-formal dance which drew scores of young couples from various Southernland points.

Clarence Williams and his Knights of Swing provided music for the function. Decorations throughout the clubhouse included bouquets of lavender flowers.

Mrs. P. A. Prager, chairman of the party, was assisted by Mesdames Vincent Borchard, John Maling, H. C. Wahlberg and the Misses Bernice Borchard and Estelle Schlesinger.

Crystal Gifts Given
Honoree at
Post-nuptial Affair

Mrs. Homer Kerley, who was Miss Katherine Holman preceding her recent marriage, was fêted at a bridal shower Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Ralph Gordon and Miss Vera Beers joined as hostesses in the home of Mrs. Gordon's mother, Mrs. S. S. Vogt, 706 East Sixth street.

Guests presented the honoree with crystal gifts to complete her set in the Embassy pattern. The formal entertainment afforded by Chinese checkers highlighted the afternoon, with first prize going to Miss Rosema Holman. Miss Venna Goodwin received traveling award.

Autumn leaves and quantities of flowers formed the party setting. Encircling tall yellow tapers in white pottery rabbit containers were matching rings filled with yellow chrysanthemums, serving as centerpieces at each of the small tables. Serving of refreshments brought the afternoon to a close.

Present with Mrs. Gordon, Miss Beers and the honoree, Mrs. Kerley were Mesdames C. E. Holman, Delbert Kerley, James Newman, S. S. Vogt and the Misses Rosema Holman, Marjorie Holman, Virginia Hardin, Helen Wieseman, Venna Goodwin, Florence Ulrich, Dorothy Hanna, Betty Reade, Alice Martin, this city and Mrs. Halstead McCormac, Lone Pine.

FEW DAYS' VISIT

Miss Beulah May has returned to her home, 1002 Maybury street, from a several days' visit in the home of her niece, Mrs. Clyde C. Hoffman, Eagle Rock. Mrs. Hoffman will be remembered as Miss Margaret May, formerly of the Santa Ana Public Library staff.

During her absence, Miss May found it possible to attend a meeting of the League of Western Writers, and also enjoyed with her niece, a tour of Chinatown, and attending the chrysanthemum show.

Fifty-Fifty Members
Have Ninth
Annual Inauguration

Placing in office Le Roy Burns, president and William Grafton, secretary, Southern California Fifty-Fifty club's ninth annual inaugural party was a festive event of the past week end at Coronado hotel.

Opening Saturday evening with 7:30 o'clock dinner, the party reached a climax Sunday evening with the inaugural dinner for which Ray Hiniker was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Burns, wife of the new president, was in raiment of a black velvet jacket, while Mrs. Grafton chose green taffeta. Mrs. Wayne Harrison, wife of the retiring president, was in black velvet embroidered with pearls. Le Roy Burns is retiring secretary.

"PEPPY" STYLE FOR CHILDREN
PATTERN 4889
By ANNE ADAMS

Behold a bright, young, easy-to-make frock designed with an eye to the future—since Pattern 4889 is everything a "four to twelve" could desire as a Thanksgiving and Christmas-party frock (as well as for immediate wear at school!) At the adorable bolero-effect line, metal buttons are a decidedly fetching note—while the eight-gore skirt "swings" just like grown-ups', allowing plenty of room for active young legs. Instead of choosing the Peter Pan collar, you might have a square neck that's equally sweet—and instead of doing the frock in one bright print or flannel, you might let the top contrast. A party-going dress will be attractive with puff-sleeves—then for an everyday frock, the long sleeves are ch-so-cozy!

Pattern 4889 is available in children's sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 6 takes 2 yards 36 inch fabric.

Mixing Bowl
BY ANN MEREDITH

Thanksgiving Dishes
Roast goose, duck and chicken are all good, and the method of preparation and roasting similar to that used for turkey, but here you may vary the type of stuffing used with goose and ducks. I suggest this one:

Apple-Celery Stuffing
1 pound bacon, diced and fried crisp, then mixed with 2 or 3 loaves of stale bread, grated after crusts have been removed. Season highly with salt, pepper and a good dash of garlic salt. Prepare and run through food chopper. 1 large head of celery, leaves included, and 2 large tart apples. Mix lightly through fried dressing and pack loosely into birds.

Baked ham for the holiday dinner should be large enough to carry over for several dinners until finally the scraps make a glorious finish in Sunday morning's breakfast omelette.

Buy a choice sugar-cured ham, preferably a skinned ham. Have the butcher saw partially through at the joint. Soak several hours in warm water, and par-boil 45 minutes in fresh water, loaded with vinegar, brown sugar and bay leaves. . . . and when I say LOADED, I mean just that.

While the ham is par-boiling and seasoning, prepare a quantity of stiff flour-and-water dough. Turn out on a floured board, knead lightly and roll to the thickness of a scant inch. Take ham out of water, rinse under cold water, dry and rub into surface all the brown sugar mixed with dry mustard and black pepper that the surface will take. Wrap in two sheets of baking parchment paper or heavy brown paper. Roast in an open pan, allowing 20 minutes to the pound (put a cup of water in pan).

At the end of time, remove ham from dough blanket, put on a cookie sheet and cover fat surfaces with cinnamon or clove-seasoned brown sugar. Bake in slow oven until the sugar forms a good crust.

A Buffet Thanksgiving Dinner
This is an elegant way to pay up dinner debts and somehow, when guests can help themselves in informal fashion, a better time seems to result. Set your dining table attractively with lace cloth, piles of plates and silver and this suggested array of food.

Hot Roast Turkey, with Dressing and Gravy
Sweet Potato-Apple Casserole
Hot or Cold Baked Ham, Whipped Cream, Mustard Sauce
Virginia Spoon Bread
Moulded Cranberry, Celery, Olives, Pickles

Hot Buttered Rolls
Hot Sliced Rye Loaf, heated with Pumpkin Tarts, Hot Mince Pie
Mould of Angel Food filled with Moulded Whipped Cream and Fruit Mixture

Coffee with Cream, or Coffee Royal (with rum)
Card tables serve for spots to light, and later, for bridge.

Some of the How-to-Makes
Sweet Potato Casserole: Freshly cooked or canned sweets and good tart cooking apples. Arrange sliced potatoes and apple in casserole in layers, sugar and butter on each layer. Pour in 1/2 cup fruit juice and bake 1 hour, oven medium.

Mustard Sauce: To 1/2 cup of whipped cream add prepared horseradish mustard until right consistency, then add chopped pimiento and sugar to highlight flavor.
Stuffed Angel Food: Scoop out a long loaf cake and fill with lemon or pineapple custard, jellied with gelatin, whipped with beaten whites and whipped cream. Chill until dessert time. Serve in slices.

Virginia Spoon Bread
2 eggs whipped with 1 cup of cooked rice and 2 tablespoons butter. 2 cups milk scalded and made into mush with 1 cup coarse white corn meal and 1 teaspoon salt. Combine the two mixtures, add 2 1/2 teaspoon baking powder and beat well, adding enough additional cold milk to make a thin batter.

Bake in a large shallow casserole, with butter dotted over top of batter. Baking time: about 45-50 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Serve from the dish.

LEECH TELLS OF WORLD TOUR

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—Japan was one of the most interesting countries he visited in a trip around the world in company with Kellar E. Watson, Alfred Leech, North Center street, said today in looking back over events of the three months' tour. Japan, said Leech, is interesting because it is so utterly different from any other place in the world.

Spending 11 days in that country, the two Orange men made a number of trips out from Tokyo, their headquarters, and were able to make a close-up study of many phases of life there. Most noticeable, says Leech, was the unity of the people and their amazing physical endurance—all, he says, on a spoonful or so of rice a day. Only one person in 3000 has an automobile in Japan, Leech says. All labor is done by hand.

The two men traveled on four different boats, passenger and freight boats combined, with luxurious accommodations for passengers including a swimming pool and three stewards each, he said. While rounding the Cape of Good Hope, the Orange residents ran into a bad storm, so violent that the arrival of the ship in harbor was the occasion for an important story in a Capetown paper. A boat which followed them had not been heard from for 12 hours when Leech and Watson left Capetown.

South Africa and Brazil both have remarkably fine navel oranges, said Leech. In Brazil, the oranges are large and very thin skinned. In both countries they are raised without irrigation, he says. In Brazil, says Leech, there are no racial distinctions.

MEMBERS OF TOASTMASTERS'
IN DISCUSSION OF 'SCIENCE'

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—"Science" was the subject for talks given at a meeting of the First Toastmasters' section of Orange Woman's club yesterday noon, with Mrs. C. O. Powell in charge of the business meeting which preceded the program. Mrs. F. E. Hallman was toastmaster.

HOLD LAST RITES
FOR ANDREW LANE

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—Last rites for a well known Orange resident, Andrew Boyd Lane, 79, who passed away Armistice Day at his home, 274 North Glassell street, were held yesterday afternoon at the Gilgoly Funeral chapel, with the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the First Methodist-Episcopal church, officiating.

Mr. Lane had been ill several years and seriously ill three weeks. He was a retired mining superintendent and same here from Pennsylvania in 1910.

Miss Helen Gilgoly sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "When the Silver Cord Will Break," accompanied by Mrs. Florence Douglass. Pallbearers were H. W. Goodwin, Santa Ana; John Gourley, Brea; L. W. Hemphill, W. R. Rice, W. B. Nuckolls, and Robert Kadau, Orange. Entombment was made in Fairhaven mausoleum.

Mr. Lane leaves his widow, Mrs. Caroline Crumpton Lane; one son, Dr. C. B. Lane, of Los Angeles; one daughter, Mrs. Elma Lane Kadau, of Orange; two grandchildren, Robert and Virginia Kadau, of Orange; one brother, Walter Lane, of Pittsburgh, Penn.

Tea Planned By Women of Church

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—Women of the First Christian church are to hold a social tea Thursday at the church parlors from 2 to 4 p. m., with Mrs. Alice Cole, president of the Missionary society, in charge. There will be no charge and all women are invited to attend regardless of church affiliations.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—Dr. B. E. Garrison, of Riverside, formerly of Orange, was a week end visitor in Orange.

Martin Gulick, a teacher in the Glendale High school, was a week end visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gulick, and the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gulick.

De Witt Bishop, of Yucaipa, spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bishop.

Mrs. C. S. Ragan, North Tustin street, has as a guest, her sister-

Table responses concerned facts about science, the greater number regarding agricultural production. Mrs. H. O. Russell spoke on "The Present Status of Television." Mrs. Vernon Shippee on "Chemurgy" or "Chemistry At Work." Mrs. H. F. Taylor on "False Advertising and the Excessive Cost of Cosmetics."

Two guests were present, Mrs. W. C. Ahlman and Mrs. Charles Thomas, of Washington, Iowa, house guest and daughter of Mrs. W. H. Johnson. Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. R. M. Gish and Mrs. Benjamin S. Brubaker. Mrs. Brubaker had been a member some years ago but had resigned her membership. The resignation of Mrs. Mabel Faulkner was accepted with regrets.

Present were Mesdames Vernon Shippee, B. D. Stanley, E. H. Smith, A. Haven Smith, Donald Smiley, H. F. Taylor, David G. Wetlin, A. H. Terrell, R. M. Gish, Jane Welch, Fred Alden, C. C. Bonebrake, Benjamin S. Brubaker, L. B. Collins, Walter F. Kogler, G. L. Niles, Ethel Niquette, M. L. Pearson, W. C. Pusey, G. O. Powell, Ernest Ross, F. E. Hallman, H. O. Russell, Miss Flo Scarritt and Miss Emma Williamson.

Postpone Dinner
Of Legion Group

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—Because several Orange churches are holding dinners Friday for father and son members, a party planned by the American Legion auxiliary for junior members was postponed yesterday afternoon when the auxiliary met for the regular business session. Mrs. Urna Davis presided.

Plans for another party, the annual Christmas party for both Legion and auxiliary members with their families, were begun.

Mrs. Cora Reynolds, president of the Mothers' club of the auxiliary, gave a report of the meeting of that group. Mrs. C. H. Adams reported on the success of the memorial services held November 10 at Orange Union high school. Members expressed a desire to continue holding the services in years to come.

Mrs. Mildred Montgomery reported on the booth stationed in the city park Armistice day and Mrs. C. H. Adams reported on the float in the parade. Thanks to children who served was expressed.

Mrs. Port Hodson resigned from her post as child welfare chairman and was replaced by Mrs. George Franzen. Mrs. Henry Kehlbrink, who is a recent arrival in Orange was a guest.

In-law, Mrs. Ben Roberts, of Los Angeles.

Hold Funeral Of
Andrew Nylander

ORANGE, Nov. 15.—Last rites for Andrew Nylander, 65, who passed away Thursday, were held yesterday afternoon at the Shannan Funeral chapel, with the Rev. George N. Greer, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, officiating. Mr. Nylander resided in Midway City.

"Nearer My God, to Thee" and "Old Rugged Cross" were musical numbers rendered during the services. Pallbearers were W. L. Birdwell, P. Marshall, W. E. Moore, C. C. Murdy, O. M. Ogle and E. L. Hensley. Interment was made in Westminster Memorial park.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Maggie Nylander; two daughters, Miss Violet Nylander, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. May Phillips, of Culver City; one son, Arthur Nylander, and two brothers.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Nov. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Willis Calderwood were in Alhambra recently visiting Mr. Calderwood's brother, Willard Calderwood, and family.

Mrs. Joe Starr of Santa Ana was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Reish, Saturday night.

Mrs. Albert Pryor and children, Jeanne and Gerald, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Reish Friday.

Mrs. Marvin Hamilton and daughter, Marcia, were guests Saturday in San Bernardino, of Mrs. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. M. Q. Brookfield.

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY ALCOFF—admiral's daughter. She is a choice between two navy suitors.
Dwight Campbell—ambitious lieutenant. He is a choice between his wife and duty.
JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.
MARVEL HAST XGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday Jack proposes to Judy, who rejects him. Violently then, he leaves her, telling her he's stood by long enough!

CHAPTER VIII

IN the days that followed, Judy Alcott tried to forget Jack Hanley's face, tried to forget the impassioned way he had begged her to marry him. The shock of discovering that he was in love with her had set in motion the many memories she wanted to bury.

The marriage of Dwight and Marvel was coming closer. In common decency, she would have to go. But she hated the thought. There had been a few parties given for the bride on the station, and at each, Marvel had scored no better than she had the night at Alcott's.

Judy had not seen Jack since the night he asked her to marry him. She was curiously eager to see him, disturbed because he did not call or come. Yet with another part of her, she was glad. She had to fight this thing out. She did not love him. She knew, desperately, that it was still Dwight she loved. She hungered for him, despite the certain knowledge that he was Marvel's. She knew, as she felt her heart pounding with longing for Dwight's arms around her again, that she'd do anything—anything!—to have him back.

SHE was wandering about the house one morning, thinking the same futile things over and over, when the phone rang. Her heart leaped. Maybe it was Jack! She would see him. She had not treated him well. Even though she could not marry him, their friendship had meant a great deal, and she missed him.

But it was not Jack's voice that answered her "Hello." It was Diane Bell. She said crisply, "I'm going downtown shopping and I thought you'd like to come." She did not say that Judy had been down in the dumps lately and needed to be revived, but it was there in her voice.

"Shopping?" Judy said uncertainly. "I—there's really nothing I need."

"Get on your best bib and tucker," ordered Diane. "We're going to buy baby pants and a new hat for me. We'll have lunch in the Paradise. Now, come on."

So Judy said, "All right. Be ready in half an hour."

She took a bath and dressed carefully. Diane was right. She ought to get out more, do things. When she was dressed, she looked at herself in the mirror. Her face seemed thinner than before. But it was still heart shaped and comely. And her eyes, blue under the long lashes, were cool. They looked back at her, and if she had not known the turmoil buried in their depths, she would not have seen it. Her mouth was soft and richly red, curved tenderly. She smiled at herself. She was pretty enough, all right. But she could not hold a candle to Marvel's insistent, flamboyant beauty.

She drove her car to Diane's bungalow. Diane was standing on the porch. "I've got Mrs. Cook's nurse watching the baby. Isn't it swell of her to send her over when I want to go out?" Mrs. Cook, the wife of a commander, had three children of school age. Diane said, "The girl loves little babies, and those kids over there are too big to be cuddled."

IT was a sunny morning, warm, but not too warm for comfort. Judy felt her spirits lift a little as they rode into town. Perhaps she did need to get out more. She felt a little surge of gratitude toward Diane. She said, smiling, "I'm going to be painfully honest about every hat you try on, Di."

They parked the car, and walked into one shop after another. Diane confessed, "I really hoped to find something luscious—reduced to about twenty-five."

But they found nothing that suited them, and so at 12 o'clock they bought the diapers for little Billy and a knit gown. "Now, let's eat!"

The Paradise was one of the nicest restaurants in town. It had a cool, dim spaciousness, and the hum of cultured voices greeted them as they walked in from the street. There was a trim hostess who came forward and said brightly, "Two? This way please."

Diane murmured, "One dollar for lunch. If I'd go hungry, that would be an extra dollar I could spend on the hat."

"This is my treat," said Judy. "Not on your life."

They sat down at the little table already set with silver. A rosebud nodded from its slim little vase in the center of the table, and the hostess put long white menu cards into their hands.

After they had ordered—Diane was taking chicken salad and peas, and Judy wanted braised calf liver with onions—they settled back in their chairs and looked around the big restaurant. The women at other tables were all smartly dressed, poised. The waitresses hurried back and forth with trays, and the hostess led two people to a table directly opposite theirs.

Diane said, "Suppose you tell me why you've suddenly buried yourself? You weren't at the dinner for Captain Lane, you've hardly played bridge—I never see you!"

Judy said carelessly, "Just resting. I'm sort of fed up on gaiety." "You're sort of crazy!" Diane said. She leaned forward. "Listen, nitwit, you're not eating your heart out over that good-looking good-for-nothing, are you?"

"I don't know what you mean," said Judy.

DIANE jeered. "It's none of my business, but you're one of my best friends, Judy. I don't like to see you going over the bumps without doing anything to stop you. And Bill tells me Jack Hanley's staying aboard these days, moping. Said he mentioned something about thinking of requesting a transfer to Pensacola."

"Pensacola?" Judy echoed swiftly. She was astonished at her own dismay. "Why does he want to do that?"

"Maybe to get away from here," said Diane flatly. "You quarreled with him?"

"No," Judy said carefully. "Not exactly."

Diane pushed the pepper and salt shakers around peevishly. "You're so blamed sunk in pitying yourself because Dwight Campbell's marrying somebody else, you don't even notice Jack Hanley enough to quarrel with him!"

Suddenly Diane stiffened. "Look!" she whispered. "Over there—in that table right across—isn't that Marvel Hastings?"

Judy did not move her gaze at once, but in a little while she let her eyes turn in the direction which Diane had indicated. And there, sitting at the table across from a dark young man, was Marvel. Marvel in a smart patent leather hat that shone against the brightness of her hair. Marvel in a sheer black dress, with a beautiful clip at her throat. And Marvel was laughing into the man's eyes, and her hand, on the table, was close to his. He was bending forward, talking earnestly. There was coquetry in Marvel's glance, and a poised, triumphant assurance.

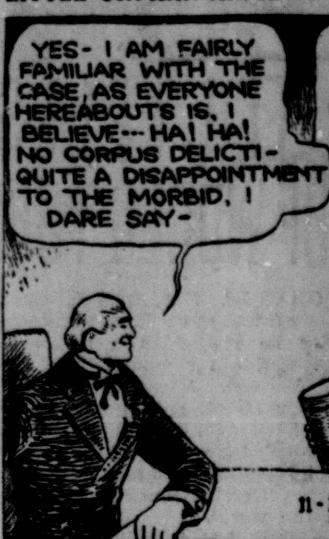

"They're merely making light conversation!" Diane said. "All you have to do is look at them and see that."

Judy felt a hard knot in her breast, and she said, "It's probably harmless and innocent. One of her friends from Los Angeles."

But she knew, watching Marvel's face, that it was more than that. And she knew that Diane knew it. Where was Dwight? Why was Marvel lunching with this man, flirting with him, when she was engaged to Dwight?

BAD WORDS

Junior, aged three, has begun to use bad words. And he seems to use them appropriately for his mood. There is no mistake about his use of them. His parents are greatly distressed. They do not use this language and are at a loss to know where Junior heard it. They have punished him repeatedly for the bad language, but on the next occasion he uses it with dramatic effect. His father and mother are afraid to take him displaying his unusual talent for verbal dramatics.

Children learn to talk by imitating the talk they hear. When somebody swears or curses, or uses barnyard words in the parlor, he does so with dramatic gestures, raised voice and sharp emphasis. This impresses the listening, watching child. He likes the show, and he notes its effect upon the listeners. He thinks he would like to be heroic in speech and gain such immediate effects as his sees. So he tries it.

If his audience shows horror, excitement, emotion of any sort, he is delighted. He thinks he has succeeded in what he set out to do. The spanking, or the banishment, the threats of punishment do not affect him beyond thrilling him a bit more. What's a spanking to being the center of an emotional storm?

Every child learning to talk picks up such words and phrases for trial, at least. If he gets no response beyond a bored yawn, a deaf ear, and upon endless repetition a scornful, "Who's been telling you such foolishness?" Only a baby would be taken in like that. I'll tell you couldn't say, "How much wood would a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck could chuck wood?" A woodchuck could chuck as much wood as a woodchuck could chuck if a woodchuck could chuck wood! That would be talking, man talk. That other gibberish—Pooh—

Don't take such speech practice as this swearing, swaggering talk of the lisping child as an indication of original sin. It is only speech practice; he will take as kindly to nonsense rhyme, especially if given with dramatic gestures, in fun. What he is looking for is a chance to exercise his speech mechanism. He is at that peculiar stage of growth in this process, and the practice is as essential to feed this speech power as his cereal is to feed his bones and muscles.

Don't flap your arms about it. Don't let it excite you. Do it one better by replacing its interesting rhythms with a few of Lear's nonsense verses. They will have just as much attraction for him as the other kind will and will add to his speech powers without flavoring his vocabulary with the spiky words he heard on the street. Whatever else you do, don't laugh at him when he uses the bad language. It is funny to hear an infant cursing fluently, all unconscious of the implications of his words. But give him no applause or you will be sorry. Silence! I beg! Then substitution. The bareness. Never applause. We do not want that kind of language to

VOTE ON COAST BOWL TEAM NOV. 28

aim Thomas Took 'Dive' The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

PINEHURST—Scoring in professional golf tournaments has become little short of phenomenal in the past year.

There was a time when a par total would win any big tournament, but not these days. The average winning figure now is eight under par.

Samuel Jackson Snead is just off bagging the White Sulphur Open on his home course with a seven-under-par 273 . . . blaz- ing a 32 on the final nine.

Every winter the P. G. A. schedule brings to light a new name on the golfing horizon. Snead was comparatively unknown two years ago. He made a good showing in the Los Angeles Open, but his name wasn't heard around the golfing world until he accounted for the Oakland Open with a spectacular 270.

Snead's rise was like the meteoric spurt of Horton Smith in 1923.

Both were named members of the Ryder Cup team in their freshman years in big-time competition.

before moving to California to remain until early February. They stop in San Antonio and New Orleans before returning to Florida.

The bulk of the sharpshooters will compete in at least 19 tournaments . . . for purse money aggregating at least $100,000. The richest tournaments are the Miami and New Orleans Opens, where the coin totals $100,000 in each case.

The long trek ends with the Bobby Jones Masters Tournament at Augusta, March 20-April 2. This big show will be spread over four days this trip, with 18 holes a day.

SNEAD SETS ALL-TIME HIGH FOR MONEY

Snead's earnings of $18,272 to date give the one-time hill-billy the distinction of setting an all-time high for P. G. A. tournament money for a single year. The figure does not include sectional sweepstake tournaments, long driving contests, and other ways a professional might make money.

But Gene Sarazen still has the honor of having won the richest purse ever offered. The Connecticut gentleman farmer captured an Agua Caliente Open for which purse money was $25,000, and $10,000 of it went to him.

Ralph Guldahl, who has been resting at his Miami home following a minor operation, is ready for action again.

Walter Hagen will play in the California tournaments. Sir Walter has been in New York for a movie short which will be used by the P. G. A. in promotion work. Snead and Harry Cooper also performed for the film.

Winner of 55 major titles in 25 years of stirring competition, Hagen has not lost the magic touch. The Old Hag remains one of the greater attractions of golf.

S. C. TO PRESS CLAIM IF RACE CLOSURES IN THE

By JACK GUENTHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES — The Pacific Coast conference announcement that balloting would select a western representative for the Rose Bowl football game Nov. 28 laid to rest the framework for a bitter sectional battle between the universities of Southern California and California. They are deadlocked in the conference race.

Hugh Willett, president of the conference, said that the vote will be called five days before U.S.C. meets Notre Dame Dec. 3, and almost a month before California faces Georgia Tech, Dec. 24. He said that such non-conference contests would receive no official consideration.

Willett will ask each of the 19 conference members to submit a ranking of the 10 teams. The team which receives six first place votes will obtain the bid. Additional ballots will be taken to break ties in case of an ultimate stalemate, the invitation will be determined by chance.

Notice was served today by athletic heads that Southern California will press its claim to the Pasadena classic—which carries cash receipts of about $90,000 to each participant—if the Trojans hold a tie for first place in the conference. Similar sentiment was evident at California. Each has two games remaining, one within the conference and one without, and each has five victories and one loss.

U.S.C. must defeat U.C.L.A. Nov. 24 and then meet Notre Dame; California must whip Stanford Saturday and later face Georgia Tech. Only one other team, U.C.L.A. has a mathematical chance and the Bruins must defeat U.S.C. and Oregon State while Stanford upsets California. In such event, all three would tie.

Sideline critics hunted vainly for a precedent to rule the Nov. 28 vote. Here are three previous scrambles and how they were decided:

1927—Stanford was beaten by St. Mary's and Santa Clara without the conference and tied by Southern California. USC was beaten only by Notre Dame and tied Stanford. The bid went to Stanford.

1928—California lost to the Olympian club and tied Stanford and Southern California. U.S.C. was unbeaten, and tied only California. The bid went to California.

1929—U.S.C. was defeated by California and Notre Dame. California lost only to Stanford and tied St. Mary's. The bid went to U.S.C.

The only unofficial development of the day was that if beaten on Thanksgiving Day U.C.L.A. would cast its vote for U.S.C. and not for California. The reason: U.S.C. would take its choice of any of the schools in the Bowl. U.C.L.A. will get the Honolulu trip if the Trojans do play in the bowl.

Pigskin Paragraphs

(By United Press)

BERKLEY—Coach "Stub" Allison revealed today that for the first time in a month all members of the University of California football team were free of injuries. He discounted two to one odds on California over Stanford next Saturday, however, recalling previous "big game" upsets.

PALO ALTO—Stanford University's varsity team, which has won a series of conference defeats, worked with a will today in preparation for Saturday's game with the University of California, where a win will still make the season a success. It was reported Pete Ray would be in shape for backfield play again by game time.

LOS ANGELES—Coach Tom Lieb drilled today in the huddle and less fashion today, with Quarterback Al De Gaetano calling signals in the old line manner. Lieb liked the way Wisconsin used the huddle to play against U.C.L.A. Saturday and said the Lions will try it against Hardin-Simmons Saturday.

FRESNO—Coach Jimmy Bradshaw today tried his Fresno State college football squad on an airtight pass defense designed to stop the potent aerial attack which the University of Hawaii is expected to use to advantage in its game with Fresno State here Friday night. The Hawaiians were scheduled to arrive in Bakersfield today for workouts prior to coming to Fresno.

COLLEGES TO MEET PROS FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK—(UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers National league football team will meet an all-star metropolitan college eleven at Ebbets field Dec. 3 in a benefit for German, Czechoslovak and Austrian refugees, it was announced today. Athletic directors of Columbia, Fordham, N. Y. U., and C. C. Y. have approved the benefit and their players will be allowed to participate.

NO OTHER "MAKIN'S LIKE IT!" ROLLS QUICKER (It's "crimp cut") PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

FROM INFORMATION NOW AVAILABLE, HERE IS THE POSSIBLE LINEUP:

THIRTY-THREE Santa Ana Junior college football players and two team managers were assured today of making the trip to San Mateo where the Dons play San Mateo today.

Halfbacks—Vic Lindskoog, Charles Stafford, Hal Tucker, Rollo Beck, Cal Calaway, Ralph Pagenkopf.

Fullbacks—Art Heinisch, Dick Saunders, Co-Captain Larry Timken, Sam Henderson.

Managers—Lawrence Macary and Danny Frias.

Yesterday's workout at the Bowl consisted of merely limbering up for the regulars but the third and fourth teams were sent through a bruising scrimmage. The rest of the week will be spent brushing up on San Mateo formations with little if any scrimmaging. Cook is anxious to have his men in top shape for the Fullerton game when they return from San Mateo.

Ends—Co-Captain Johnny Joson, Jimmie Nunez, Glenn Cave, Ted DeVelbiss, Les Valentini.

Orange Bowl, Miami—he best southern club left after the other bowls are filled.

Georgetown, Villanova or Holy Cross.

Eastern Bowl, New York—(tentative)—T.C.U., Tennessee, Duke, Texas Tech vs. Carnegie Tech, Boston college, Holy Cross or Villanova.

Texas Christian's horned frogs appear to be the key team that will decide who goes where and who plays who. With Notre Dame out of the way, T.C.U. probably can take its choice of any of the schools. It is reported that Cotton Bowl officials are pressuring to keep the Frogs in Dallas, but if the players are allowed to decide the question themselves, they'll probably choose either Pasadena or New York.

Duke is the dark horse team, but a victory over Pitt undoubtedly would make it the leading candidate for the Rose Bowl bid, and you can bet that Wallace Wade would like nothing better than that 3000-mile junket.

Since New Year's Day falls on Sunday, some of the bowl "classics" will be held over until Monday. This will be the case in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, said Herbert Benson, president of the Midwinter Sports Association.

The Rose Bowl situation seems in the worst shape because there is no perfect record team on the West coast. The Western bid will as usual go to the Pacific Coast conference winner—if there is one—but it is probable that the race will end up in a tie between California and Southern California. They each have five victories and one defeat, and each has one more conference game which it should win. It was announced last night that balloting for the conference members for the western representative will be held Monday, Nov. 28. If the bid should go to the defending champion California Bears, they will cancel their late December date with Georgia Tech.

From information now available, here is the possible lineup:

Rose Bowl, Pasadena—California or Southern California vs. T.C.U., Tennessee or Duke, Sugar Bowl, New Orleans—T.C.U., Tennessee or Duke vs. Carnegie Tech or Holy Cross, Cotton Bowl, Dallas—Texas

THIRTY-THREE Santa Ana Junior college football players and two team managers were assured today of making the trip to San Mateo where the Dons play San Mateo today.

Halfbacks—Vic Lindskoog, Charles Stafford, Hal Tucker, Rollo Beck, Cal Calaway, Ralph Pagenkopf.

Fullbacks—Art Heinisch, Dick Saunders, Co-Captain Larry Timken, Sam Henderson.

Managers—Lawrence Macary and Danny Frias.

Yesterday's workout at the Bowl consisted of merely limbering up for the regulars but the third and fourth teams were sent through a bruising scrimmage. The rest of the week will be spent brushing up on San Mateo formations with little if any scrimmaging. Cook is anxious to have his men in top shape for the Fullerton game when they return from San Mateo.

Ends—Co-Captain Johnny Joson, Jimmie Nunez, Glenn Cave, Ted DeVelbiss, Les Valentini.

Tackles—Cy Leivermann, Jack Stafford, Grover Miller, Virgil Stevens, Wes Mulkins, Gilbert Nohrig, Tom Anderson.

Guards—Dale Mickelwait, Dick

Christian or Texas Tech vs. Oklahoma or Iowa State.

Orange Bowl, Miami—he best southern club left after the other bowls are filled.

Georgetown, Villanova or Holy Cross.

Eastern Bowl, New York—(tentative)—T.C.U., Tennessee, Duke, Texas Tech vs. Carnegie Tech, Boston college, Holy Cross or Villanova.

Texas Christian's horned frogs appear to be the key team that will decide who goes where and who plays who. With Notre Dame out of the way, T.C.U. probably can take its choice of any of the schools. It is reported that Cotton Bowl officials are pressuring to keep the Frogs in Dallas, but if the players are allowed to decide the question themselves, they'll probably choose either Pasadena or New York.

Duke is the dark horse team, but a victory over Pitt undoubtedly would make it the leading candidate for the Rose Bowl bid, and you can bet that Wallace Wade would like nothing better than that 3000-mile junket.

Since New Year's Day falls on Sunday, some of the bowl "classics" will be held over until Monday. This will be the case in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, said Herbert Benson, president of the Midwinter Sports Association.

The Rose Bowl situation seems in the worst shape because there is no perfect record team on the West coast. The Western bid will as usual go to the Pacific Coast conference winner—if there is one—but it is probable that the race will end up in a tie between California and Southern California. The best backfield man in the south is Parker Hall of Ole Miss, and half a dozen coaches have told me that if he doesn't make the All-Americans the supreme court should step in and rule such teams invalid.

Best true football story of the year belongs to Bill Alexander, Georgia Tech's coach. . . . A few years back Tech was beating Oglethorpe badly and Alex sent in four successive quarterbacks with instructions to quit trying to score and kick the ball. . . . All four failed to follow orders.

Finally Alexander sent in a fifth stringer who swore he could obey orders. . . . A few plays later Tech blocked and recovered a kick on Oglethorpe's one-yard line. . . . On first down the quarterback called for a punt and kicked the ball completely out of the stadium. . . .

Anybody want to bet that Ellsworth Vines doesn't win six of his first 10 matches with Don Budge? My guess is that Donald won't be able to adjust himself to Vines' speed indoors for at least a dozen or so matches. . . . After that Donald's supreme steadiness and lack of any definite weakness should give him a slight edge over Elly. . . . Whenever the St. Louis Browns feel badly about never having won an American league championship, they can cheer themselves by thinking of the football badgers of Springfield college in this city. . . . Founded in 1830, the Badgers have yet to win the conference.

Fordham's forfeit on the wager was in the mails and everybody on the campus, particularly the Fordham senior pharmacy class which prepared it, was thankful.

The bet, made between deans of the Pitt and Fordham pharmacy schools, was for 500 capsules of zinc valerate, a chemical with a highly offensive odor. As they were being prepared in the pharmacy lab yesterday a strong northwest wind swept the nauseous fumes across the campus, through class rooms and even down to the field where the football team worked out.

A freshman, whose nose bore the imprint of a clothes pin, said to-day that it would be "happily unfortunate" if the capsules should melt en route and the chemicals be freed when the package is opened by Pittsburgh's pharmacy students.

The Santa Ana Tennis club dropped a 79-72 decision to the Peris Hills club of San Bernardino in the first Citrus Belt league series for both teams.

Stanford's B and D threatens strike

(UP)—Stanford university's 1000-piece student band threatened to strike today if their high school drum majorette is forced to resign.

The majorette is Miss Maxine Turner, 17, San Leandro high school student, whose pleasing appearance and baton twirling have drawn her favorable comparison to Boxing patrons of the Orange County Athletic club last night witnessed the best double main event that has been shown here in many months. Both bouts were packed with action and matched closely enough that the excited fans were held in suspense until the final gong.

Johnny Frietas, tough Wilmington stevedore, gave the Ebony club's ace slugger, Sammy Walker, a merry boxing lesson. They hit each other with everything but the alarm clock for four rounds with Frietas was given a well earned decision.

Tough little Wayne Penn was winner of a bloody bout with Santa Ana's Benny Garcia that all but battered the fans in hysterics. The fighters threw haymakers at each other like a couple of estranged brothers-in-law with Penn going down for a no count in the second and coming back with a barrage of hooks and crosses that had Garcia's face smeared with gore. Garcia was flat on the floor at the final bell which saved him from a complete knockout.

Ralph Lee, clever colored boxer, gave Jack Harris a thorough boxing lesson and all but finished him in the third with a series of left hooks to the whiskers.

Sal Baca was too good for green but willing Richie Young of Anaheim. Young showed the fans that he has the makings of a battler by standing up to Baca's vicious punches and hand it back in a very willing manner, considering his lack of experience.

Santos Baca made a chunk out of colored J. C. Stoner. Baca's shoe came apart in the second, making it necessary to fight with one foot bare in the third which didn't seem to bother him a bit. Another shoe was found for him and he came out for the fourth giving Stoner a beating that the Negro's corner threw in the towel and stopped the massacre. . . . Gil Lopez won a questionable decision from Jack Garcia in a hectic battle. . . . Ray Baxter outpointed George Jinks and James (String Bean) Henry outpointed Ray Torres in the opener.

Kohl Shoff, Chaffey's high-scoring halfback, kicked two points after touchdowns against Santa Ana to increase his Eastern conference scoring lead of 32 points. Les Terry of Chaffey and Hal Finney of San Bernardino moved within 7 and 8 points, respectively, of Shoff. Terry now has 25 points and Finney 24.

Continuing their undefeated pace in the Y. M. C. A. league, Treesweet Products' classy basketball team added Famous Department store to its list of victims last night to the tune of 44-15. In the second game T. J. Neal's Sports Goods smashed out a 58-38 win over the Southern Counties Gas company.

Both games were featured by the high scoring of individual players. Elmer Rhoton of Treesweet started in the first game by totaling 20 points. In the T. J. Neal-Gas company game three players peppered the lace for 18 points or more. Emmett Seacord hit the hoop for 19 points, 16 came during the first half. Tom Lacy and Bob Schwartz of Neal's both garnered 18 points.

NEWS OF THE WORLD PORTRAYED IN PICTURES

Tonsilectomy? Adenoid Operation? Just a Lot of Big Words To Laughing Quints

Just before the operation, Emille grinned . . .

Sister Cecile had an even bigger smile . . .

While Yvonne almost laughed out loud . . .

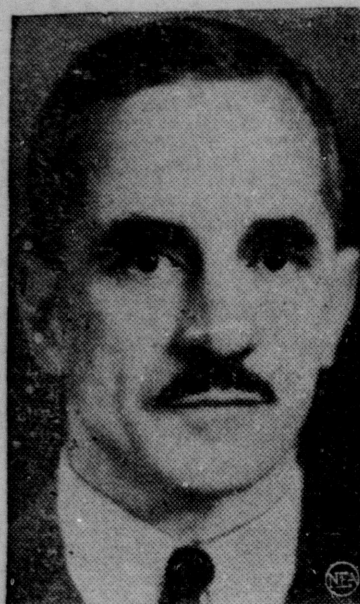

Annette also was in high good humor . . .

And little Marie was the jolliest of all.

Lives of Five Dionnes Were In Their Hands

To Dr. E. S. Wishart, above, of the Toronto Children's Hospital, fell the task of removing the adenoids and tonsils of the Dionne quintuplets.

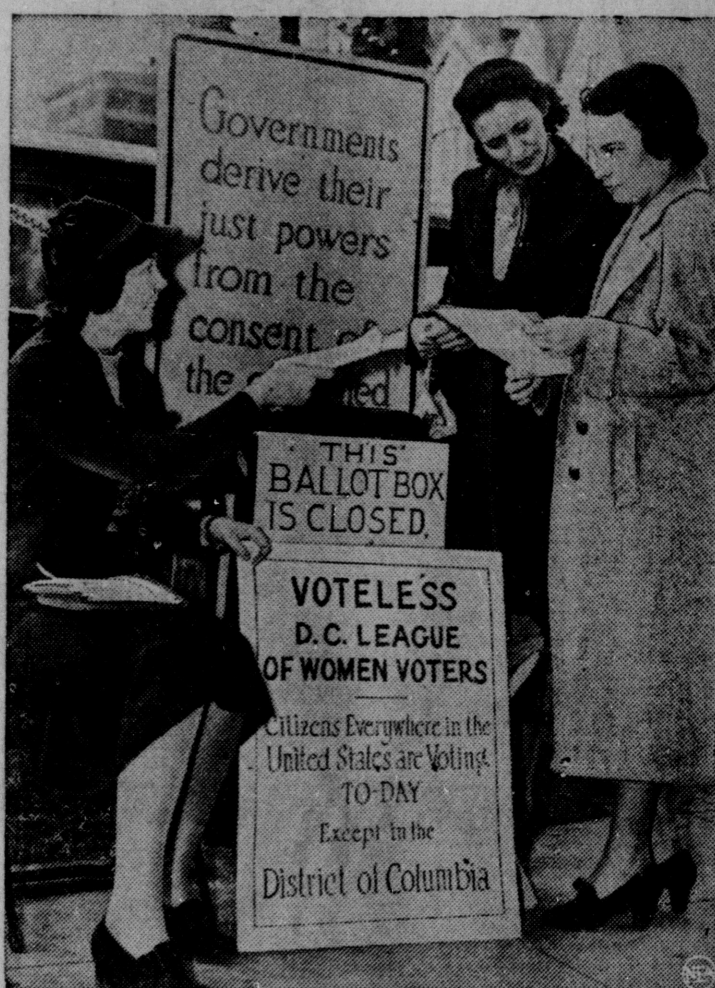

Dr. C. H. Robson, above, chief anesthetist of the Toronto hospital, placed the quints under general anesthesia before Dr. Wishart operated.

Long a consulting physician in the care of the five Dionnes, Dr. Alan Brown, above, of Toronto, assisted in the operation at Callander.

"Suffragettes"—D. C. Model

Seeking an amendment to the Constitution that would remove the present restriction barring residents of the District of Columbia from voting, members of the District League of Women Voters campaign in Washington with a placarded, black-draped, ballot-box.

'Strong Man' Sees Washington

Cuba's dictator, Col. Fulgencio Batista, rides to the White House with Gen. Malin Craig, right, U. S. army chief.

Pickets Take to Sea With Signs

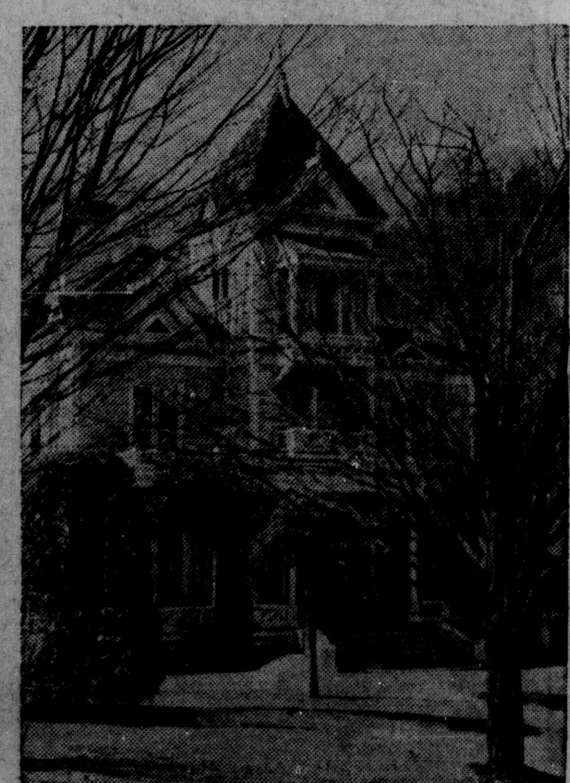

Chill breezes and choppy Puget Sound waters were braved by these members of the CIO Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, as they used rowboats to picket a wood preserving plant on Bainbridge Island.

Socialites Dance As Horses Prance

Dead Fifty Years, His Effigy and Home Await His Return

More than half a century ago, John Bowman died in Cuttingsville, Vt., and since then the life-like sad-faced stone statue of him has kept, as pictured above, a steadfast vigil outside the mausoleum in which he was buried. Bowman believed he would come back from the grave, posed for the effigy, and ordered it set before his resting place. From the fortune he amassed as a tanner, he set up a trust fund to keep his mansion, shown at right, open and ready for occupancy upon the day of his resurrection. His orders have been faithfully carried out.

Wreckage of the freak crash of army attack plane in Washington's residential district. Two flyers were killed. Three parked cars hit by plane burned.

This Time the HORSE Drinks Toast!

Masquerader, first U. S. Army mount to win the Brooks-Bright Foundation Challenge Cup in ten years, is offered a rewarding sip from the trophy by Lieutenant Scott Sanford who rode the jumper to victory in the National Horse Show in New York.

Lewis Scored

President David Dubinsky of C.I.O. International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union as he heard special committee at Washington meeting charge John L. Lewis blocks labor peace negotiations.
